

"Scraps Of Paper," Gompers Declares; Calls Writ Unlawful

Federal Authorities Await Effect of Injunction and Prepare For Further Steps—Labor To Carry On Fight.

By Associated Press
Washington—While awaiting evidence of the effect on the nation's crippled transportation facilities of the federal court injunction issued in Chicago Friday against striking railway shopmen, the federal government, administration spokesmen declared, was prepared to take any further steps and exercise any of its powers necessary to bring about a restoration of normal conditions.

Just what direction such further action of the government if found necessary might take has not been revealed, but it was declared the restraining order did not represent the limit to which the government was prepared to go.

WILL IGNORE ORDER
Meantime, labor leaders here, viewing the injunction as an "outrageous" invasion of the strikers' rights, had declared their intention of ignoring the order so far as it might be construed as interfering with what they considered to be legitimate efforts of the striking organizations and their friends to win the strike.

W. H. Johnston, representing, as president of the International Association of Machinists, one of the large groups of the rail strikers, declared the injunction would not cause the slightest abatement of efforts to win the strike, while Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, asserted it was the federation's view that injunctions which "invaded constitutional rights"
should be treated as "scraps of paper."

Mr. Gompers declared that the American Federation of Labor would continue to raise funds and supplies in aid of railroad strikers regardless of the injunction, which he assailed as a "most outrageous thing—a process of the courts, a gross violation of the rights of the citizenry." The injunction, he added, might "stir up a hornet's nest" instead of putting a check to existing unrest.

PRESIDENT CHANGES MIND
The government's injunction suit was still the dominant subject of informal discussion among officials and members of the senate and house Saturday. To a great majority of whom the action came as a complete surprise, its discussion at a recent cabinet meeting is said to have developed a decided divergence of opinion as to its advisability, with the president, it is understood in some quarters at first taking the position with those opposed to it, for a time at least but later changing his opinion with subsequent developments in the situation, including the apparent breakdown of strike settlement efforts and increased instances of violence.

WARNT TO STRIKE
Though the American Federation of Labor has no power to call strikes, according to Mr. Gompers, its executive council next Saturday will be asked to review appeals and demands from
"hundreds of unions" for the institution of a general strike to support the fight of railroad unions now on strike.

"These appeals have come to me from all over the country, from those who imagine that I have power, or that the federation has power to call a general strike," Mr. Gompers said.
"They have been in the form of resolutions passed by trade union councils or by local unions, or editorials in labor periodicals."

The resolutions and demands, Mr.
Gompers declared, indicated a state of mind in labor circles more inflamed than ever before and he considered them important to that extent. It was said that most of them came to federation headquarters before the federal court restraining order was issued.

PEGGY'S HUSBAND SHOT; NEAR DEATH

By Associated Press
Plattsburg, N. Y.—"Buddie" Johnson, husband of Peggy Marsh, actress and professional dancer who accidentally shot himself through the body
Thursday night, is in a critical condition in the Champlain Valley hospital here Saturday after having been conveyed by boat and automobile from an isolated camp in the Adirondack mountains, more than 50 miles away. An operation was performed successfully Friday night but Johnson is not out of danger.

The shooting occurred at the camp of Jack Clifford, former husband of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, on Chateaugay lake as Mr. Johnson was about to put away a revolver he had been using in target practice, according to the story obtained by the hospital authorities. Johnson was carried several miles by boat to Merrill, N. Y., and from there to here by automobile.
Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and her son,
on whose account she brought action for $100,000 against the Marshall field state, had gone to the Clifford camp for a vacation after completing a dancing engagement in New York.

Santa Joins Profiteers, Berlin Says

Washington—Santa Claus is joining the profiteers, according to a report to the commerce department Saturday from Berlin which advised of mounting prices for German toys.
Christmas prices cannot be forecast, the report declared but an increase of 150 per cent in the price of German toys to take effect in the fall has been decided upon with further increases contingent.

Militarism, the report added, has disappeared from the German toy industry and the army corps of lead soldiers formerly turned out by the Nuremberg factories have been succeeded by tribes of American Indians.

5 INJURED AS RACE CAR RUNS AMUCK AT FAIR

Auto Crashes Into Box Near Tracks—Racine and Milwaukee People Hurt

Milwaukee—Five persons were injured at the state fair Saturday when the left wheel of a racing car flew off and crashed into one of the boxes lining the track.

Those injured are: Charles W.
Steele, Racine, left shoulder broken;
Mrs. Alice Bruggmann, Racine, left shoulder broken; Edward Bessler, 11, Georg's Park, 14 and John Tashlik, all of Milwaukee.

The cars, scheduled to enter the first race, were making a preliminary run around the track. As the leading car dashed by the grandstand, the defective wheel crashed off and into the box.

"BOB" DEFENDS HIS WAR RECORD

Kenosha—Defending his war record, Senator Robert M. LaFollette, resumed his political fight for reelection to the senate here on Friday when he addressed 2000 at the Coliseum, receiving a typical "LaFollette ovation" as he entered the hall.

"I would trade places with no man either in the United States or in France so far as my war record is concerned," declared the senator. "I was not in favor of the war and I would like to know what benefit came from it." He branded the war as a commercial war and one fought for the capitalists. He declared he would take the same stand if he had it to do over again.

The remainder of his address was given over to decrying wealth and to a brief discussion of state issues.

Yes Sir! Propaganda In Dictionary; Asks Removal From Library

Boston—Alleging that it contains matter "as British as London bridge," councilman James A. "Jerry" Watson, of Boston, has called upon the trustees of the Boston public library to remove from the shelves of that institution the latest edition of Webster's dictionary.

The attack on the dictionary is based on its definition of the word
"constitution" which is as follows:
"The principal or fundamental laws which govern a state or other organized bodies of men, and are embodied in written documents, or are implied in the institutions and customs of the country or society. In previous editions, specific reference had been made to the constitution of the United States."

The work, according to Councilman Watson, "is part and parcel of the Anglo-Saxon, monarchical propaganda which is insidiously undermining the sturdy Americanism of this country and waning the people away from the standards set by the revolutionary fathers."

"It is as British as London bridge," it is but one more attempt to undermine the old ideals upon which this union was founded."

Warm Fall Is Predicted By Indian Seer

By Associated Press
Selkirk, B. C.—An open fall with no cold weather until late in November was predicted Saturday by Harry Prince, a grandson of the great Indian Chief Peguis. He based his opinion principally on the stars and declared the dipper is exceptionally slow in moving this season. This fact he stated, is an unfailing sign of long continuance of warm weather.

STATE OFFICE SEEKERS ARMY ALL BY ITSELF

More Than 100 Political Battles Waged For Control of Legislature

Madison—While attention is directed to the outstanding contests for control of state offices and United States senator, there are being waged in Wisconsin without outward display over 100 political battles, the outcome of which will determine in large part the success of the next state administration.

The closing weeks of the Republican primary campaign have brought such activity from the major party candidates that the little district battles behind the scenes have gone unrecognized. Their importance will become evident after the Republican contests are over and the legislature meets in January.

100 FIGHTING POINTS
Politicians have recognized the importance of control of the senate and assembly, and despite the meagre pay of $500 for a session that lasts six months, candidates of opposing factions in the Republican party have been brought out in practically every one of the 100 assembly districts and in all of the 17 senate districts where elections are held. There are no primary fights in the Democratic or Socialist ranks.

Two issues dominate the legislative contests. One is the affiliation of the candidates with either the LaFollette Progressive wing of the party or with the opposition; the other the candidate's stand on the wet and dry issue which is sure to command prominence and time of the next session.

DIVIDED LAST YEAR
The last legislature was divided closely on both of these issues. Forty-eight assemblymen and 14 senators were considered allied with the administration in 1921, while 51 as-semblymen and 18 senators were favorable to the dry cause. The LaFollette faction and the wets are working to break down the lead held by each of their opponents.

Assemblyman John L. Dahl, administration floor leader is facing a battle for renomination, opposed by J. H. Johnson, who has the support of the Anti-Saloon league. Mark Catlin, leader of the anti-administration assemblymen is having a hard contest in Outagamie county opposed by Charles Schrimpf.

D. J. Summerville, anti-administration leader of the finance committee and a dry is opposed in Rusk and Sawyer counties by G. C. Maloney, a LaFollette man.

FIND COUPLE DEAD IN BED ALL WEEK

By Associated Press
Milwaukee—After lying side by side for nearly a week with bullets through their heads, the bodies of Anton, 49 and Hedwig Kraus, 50, husband and wife, were found late Friday night in a bed at their home here, dead by their own hands, police believe. Kraus still clutched a revolver.

A note scrawled in German, showed that the couple had considered long before they decided to die. The few written words intimate that the strange couple coolly debated the question and came to a decision at last,
when they became involved in a petty boundary dispute with neighbors.

ONE DEAD, THREE HURT; TRAIN HITS AUTOMOBILE

By Associated Press

Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federations,
the American Farm Bureau federa-

Government Acts Swiftly on Heels of Tempor- ary Injunction Granted Friday—First Writ Served on John Scott

Chicago.—The government acted swiftly upon the heels of the injunction action Friday in which United States Attorney General Daugherty obtained a temporary injunction which prohibits the strikers from interfering in any way with the operations of the railroads.

Notice of temporary enjoining order and the pending hearing
September 11, in Federal district court, here were served Friday night on John Scott, Secretary-treasurer of the Railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor.

B. M. Jewell, head of the railway employees' department and acknowledged leader of the strike, could not be found by marshals and the belief prevailed that Mr. Jewell was seeking to evade service.

Fifty hundred subpoenas or notice of the temporary order and hearing were being printed. More than 250 individuals, officers and aids of leaders of the six shopmen's unions whose 300,000 members went on strike July 1, the railway employees department and 120 system federations throughout the country were named.

Some 5,500 deputy United States marshals throughout the country are ready to receive the subpoenas and serve them on local federation officers and other individual union leaders named in the injunction suit.

Fifty additional deputy marshals were sworn in at Chicago to aid in serving the notices upon the union leaders.

Union headquarters were working at the usual hour Saturday and with apparent activity. B. M. Jewell, it was said at the office was out Saturday morning. One report had it that he had gone to Cleveland and was expected to meet train service brotherhood leaders.

CONFERS WITH OFFICERS
Blackburn Easterline, assistant solicitor general of the United States, who appeared with Attorney General
Daugherty and District Attorney
Charles F. Chase, in District Judge Wilkinson's court Friday where the temporary restraining order was granted, was conferring here Saturday with local and federal officials in connection with enforcement of the injunction.

The entire department of justice was in active operation and while no arrests had been made and no violations of the injunction had been reported, extreme watchfulness was being maintained against further violence or other actions that would be violation of the court's order.

NEEDS 43,000 DEPUTIES
At Chicago Friday the attorney general told the court that because of lawlessness and violence his department had received urgent requests for no less than 40,000 deputy United States marshals to keep order.

Already some 5,500 marshals have been so assigned and in addition special service men of the department have taken up similar work throughout the country.

The cost of such special service, he said, already was more than $1,000, for the eight weeks of the strike.

In California alone, Mr. Daugherty said more than $75,000,000 worth of fruit and produce had already been destroyed because of the failure of transportation system to move the crops.

In Somerset, Ky., he said 25,000 tons of bituminous coal were congested in railroad yards Thursday and as a re-

2 ESCAPE FROM WAUKESHA JAIL

Waukesha, Wis.—Two prisoners,
Ernest J. Futhery, 33, and George Kattel, 25, held in the county jail here on charge of robbing a Soo line freight train escaped from the prison Friday night by cutting their way from their cells and through iron barred windows and then dropping 30 feet to the ground.

FREIGHT HIGH; FRUIT ROTS IN MICHIGAN

Frankfort, Mich.—Thousands of bushels of apples, plums and pears are rotting beneath the trees in Benzie county orchards. Fruit growers say the transportation costs are so high and market price so low that freight amounts to nearly as much and in some instances more, than the fruit will bring when delivered to market.

The grower said he shipped 47 bushels of Duchesne apples across Lake Michigan to a Wisconsin commission man and received a check for 3 cents after the freight and brokerage charges had been deducted. Another, shipping 50 bushels reported getting a check for 5 cents. A third was not so fortunate. After shipping a large consignment of apples he received a bill from the commission man for 15 cents to make up a deficit in transportation costs.
Farmers are giving the fruit away to any one who come and pick it.

GRABLE, LABOR CHIEF, BREAKS UNDER STRAIN

Chicago—E. F. Grable, president of the International Brotherhood of Maintenance of Waymen, is critically ill in a hotel here, his wife told a representative of the Associated Press Saturday, suffering from a nervous collapse.

Mrs. Grable was called from her home in Detroit Wednesday night and arriving Thursday found her husband in a critical condition. He has been in a semicomatose practically ever since, she said, and suffering with a high fever.

The strain of keeping the 400,000 maintenance of waymen out of the railroad strike while preparing to present a petition for wage increases to the labor board wore him out, Mrs.
Grable said, and worry over the outcome of the labor board hearing is, she believes, partly responsible for his critical condition now.

settlement of the railroad shopmen's strike, according to an announcement made here. This movement was decided upon at the end of the second month of the nationwide walkout of the shop crafts.

FIGHT LEADS TO MOONSHINE STILL

(Farmers Land in Menasha Court When Police Find
Liquor Plant

Frank Fritsch, a farmer living on the Menasha rd., and Joseph Drexler, said to be a Menasha blacksmith who occasionally works on the Fritsch farm, attracted quite a crowd and the police when they mixed a fist fight on the Fritsch farm about 6:30 Friday evening. Menasha police smelled moonshine on the two scrappers and started an investigation which resulted in finding two stills, both in operation, on the farm.

Fritsch and Drexler, rather the worse for wear and drink, were bundled into a car and lodged in the Menasha jail where they were held to await preliminary hearing in justice court on a charge of operating moonshine stills. A quantity of "finished" product and some mash was said to have been found on the premises.

The fight is said to have started over the objection of women of the household to the alleged moonshine activities.

THE STAGE

"Beyond the Rocks"

The verandah of the Cafe Ritz in Paris affords one of the many interesting scenes in "Beyond the Rocks," the Paramount picture starring Elton Glyn's famous novel, in which Gloria Swanson is starred and which is starting Wednesday at Fischer's Appleton Theatre. Here at the customary tables are grouped exactly the types that one would find in this exclusive establishment for satisfying the inner man and also pleasing the eye and ear.

At one table is seated a couple of the bourgeoisie, as is plainly discernible by their appearances and dress and carven is stamped in every thing. But between them sits the daughter of the house—and the excuse for their presence in the Ritz select confines—for she is lovely and refined and sweet as a rare flower. At another is a typical continental woman in perfect taste, with a gentleman apparently of some foreign court at another table sits an elderly man with staring whiskers who laughs and indulges in repartee with his vis-à-vis.

Over there is Rodolph Valentino—looking his part of the young English baronet with Spanish ancestry. He rises as Alice Fremont, playing the father of Theodore, enters accompanied by Gloria Swanson who has the stellar role of the last named character. They meet and Valentino takes them to his table. It is all correct, all in perfect taste—and extreme care was exhibited in this as in every phase of the story. Mme. Glyn being present to care for every bit of detail and assist Sam Wood, the director, in matters which her long association with people of the types herein described has rendered second nature to her.

BOY MIGHT BE CRIPPLE AS RESULT OF TUMBLE

Carlton Hahn 5 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Hahn fell off the stage at Forest garden at 8:30 Wednesday noon and broke his right arm in the elbow joint. The little boy as playing in the dance hall of which his father is proprietor and climbed on to the orchestra platform. He lost his balance and fell to the floor breaking his arm. The attending physician says that in all probability the lad will have a stiff arm as the result of the accident.

The transmitting station of the Northwestern Radio company has been secured for this purpose, and the sending of election returns will begin at 9 o'clock in the evening. There will be 15 minute periods of returns at 9, 9:30, 10, 10:30 and 11 o'clock.

After 11 o'clock, if the returns are coming in steadily, the number of periods will be increased, giving almost continuous service. The time of service after 11 will be announced by WGAY at that hour.

Radio users are advised to tune in on WGAY Tuesday night and listen in on the returns that will be given by the fastest method in the world. They may invite their friends to gather at their homes and some in interesting radio election parties will be the result.

FOUR INDUSTRIAL PICNICS MONDAY

Four industrial picnics will be held in Neenah, Appleton and Combined Locks on Labor Day at which nearly 4,000 people will attend. The Trades and Labor council picnic will take place at Waverly beach where preparations are being made for more than 2,000 people. There will be dancing in the afternoon and evening and a program of games and contests.

WALTON LEAGUE BUTTONS READY FOR MEMBERSHIP

Will Dilg Eager to Organize Large Branch of League
in Appleton

Sportsmen who gave their names and membership fees to become members of the Isaak Walton League of America, a branch of which was formed here several weeks ago, and have been wondering why they have not received their membership cards and buttons, will be relieved to know that a large quantity of cards and buttons have at last been mailed from the league's national headquarters. It appears that a clerical error was responsible for the delay.

A meeting of the new chapter will be called early in the fall when officers will be elected, a definite program shaped and probably a drive will be made for more members. Nearly 100 persons have already pledged themselves to support the league.

Will H. Dilg, a famous fisherman, who is president of the national league as well as editor of the Isaak Walton League monthly, is very anxious to gather a large following in Outagamie co., according to word received by G. L. Chamberlin, secretary and treasurer of the Outagamie co. Fish and Game Protective association. Mr. Dilg, together with Emerson, Hugh and Dr. Preston Bradley, received a great ovation when they spoke at a sportsmen's gathering here in June.

"I have set my heart on making progress in Appleton," Mr. Dilg has informed Mr. Chamberlin, "because I know of its importance to the state of Wisconsin."

The magazine, which was founded in the interests of fish and game conservation, has had a wonderful effect upon the league, he says. A large number of new chapters will be formed after Sept. 15.

FINISH PAVING HALF OF STREET

L. J. Waltman, who was awarded the contract for building the new concrete pavement between the railroad tracks and the south end of Lake-st. bridge, which was filled in a year ago when an iron bridge was removed, has commenced work on the west side of the street. The east side is open to traffic and the street will be closed while the work is in progress. Mr. Waltman has been awarded the contract for building the concrete pavement on the east half of the alley north of the city hall, which will constitute the only paving to be done this season.

NEGRO DRIVER FINED $10 FOR GETTING DRUNK

Fred Elyard, a Negro of Neenah was released by Judge A. M. Spencer in municipal court Friday morning after paying a fine of $10 and costs for driving in Greenville Thursday while under the influence of liquor. He spent the night in the county jail.

Edward DeWitt, Appleton, also was released when he furnished $10 for the check he had written when he had no funds in the bank.

ALLEGED BURGLAR IS RELEASED ON BAIL

Richard Schmoll who was held by the county authorities on a charge of committing burglary on the premises of Ralph Buelow of Sugar Bush Sunday was released from the county jail Friday when he furnished bail in the sum of $1,000. Three other men are now also charged with implication in the crime. They are Charles Kelly, Jerry Eagan and James Hurley, all of Lebanon, Waupaca co. Schmoll was brought here from Symco, Waupaca co., by Sheriff Peter G. Schwartz.

POSTAL TEAM SEEKS REVENGE HERE SUNDAY

The Appleton Postoffice baseball team will play the Oshkosh postoffice team Sunday in the Wisconsin State League park. The Appleton players lost a game to the Oshkosh team by the score of 10 to 8 about a month ago, which was the first game that Oshkosh won from the local aggregation in 15 years.

The game will start at 2 o'clock. Herman J. Schneider will hurl for the local team and William Koziak will catch in the absence of Harry Jung, who is on the sick list. Smith and Hest probably will be the battery for Oshkosh.

SPEED UP FINISHING WORK ON NEW STORE

Workmen were engaged Friday in putting the finishing touches on the first floor of the new insurance building of the Aia Association for Luthians, which has been leased to the J. C. Penney Co. The balcony in the rear, which is to be used as the offices was finished Thursday. The shelving will be installed early next week, and it is expected the new company will be doing business before the end of the month.

Traffic Still is Heavy
Lake-st. drawbridge has just been roided with electric lights and now is well illuminated. According to Edward King, bridge-tender, there has been very little decrease so far in automobile traffic. Sixty machines ned up Thursday while a boat was passing through the draw, he said.

Demoralized Europe Is Facing Great Problems, Kinsman Finds On Tour

Few Idle Men and Factories in Germany—Austria in Terrible Straits Because of Currency Depreciation.

That Europe is in a deplorable state of nationalism and that it is facing the biggest financial and political problems in the history of its countries is the opinion of Dr. D. O. Kinsman, who has just returned from a 9-weeks tour of England, Belgium, Holland, France, western Germany and Italy.

His family traveled with a party and were not able to stop in any one place long enough to make a thorough study of conditions, but they said that talk of another war between France and Germany within the next ten years is not uncommon.

The prices charged to tourists were not so bad as the Appleton people expected and in no case did any one in the rather large party feel that he had been robbed. In many cases, purchases were made in the foreign countries at prices which were considerably less than in this country, but most of the time the prices averaged about the same as here.

SAW PASSION PLAY
Perhaps, the most stupendous thing which the Kinsmans saw according to Dr. Kinsman was the Passion play at Oberamgau. Dr. Kinsman was especially enthusiastic about the wonderful acting of the man who played the part of Judas. He had much praise for the work of the actor who took the part of the Christ, and said that the whole production was one of the most artistic creations which has ever been produced.

"The devastation in Belgium was less than I expected," said Dr. Kinsman. "The reports during the war led me to believe that many places had been all but wiped out. Although many buildings show that they have been patched, the complete destruction of buildings was evidently rather small. Belgium is by no means the small country it was before the war. In one place near the front in France where there were 600 buildings, only 15 were not hit. That does not mean that all the others were destroyed however."

GERMANY PROSPEROUS
From the standpoint of industry and work, Dr. Kinsman says that Germany seems to be most prosperous. There were fewer dead chimneys on German industrial plants than any where else, but the condition of the German marks makes store keeping and all business precarious. England seemed to have more idle men than any other country, but in Italy the political unrest was evident everywhere. The radical and socialist elements in Italy are working together and strikes of every description are called without apparent reason, continue for 24 hours of rioting and then are called off.

Austria is in a terrible state, according to Dr. Kinsman. Its money has no value at all and the tourists cannot help but wonder how the people manage to live. One of the party took a hour's taxi ride about one of the cities, which cost him 60,000 kronen, the equivalent of $2 in United States money. A dinner for four cost 125,000 kronen, a little bit more than $4. The normal exchange value of the kronen is something like 40 cents.

HATE EACH OTHER
Political hatred is outstanding in all the countries in Europe. There is absolutely no international good feeling and the hostility seems to be increasing among the people, paying the way for another war.

Speaking again of high prices, Dr. Kinsman told of paying only 55 cents for a taxi in Paris with Warrants for a taxi for four in Paris including a tip for which the driver was deeply grateful and of paying $2 in Montreal for a considerably shorter trip. There are but few first class automobiles in Europe and the Ford is a common sight. Many American tourists are traveling in Europe in their cars.

FILLED WITH TOURISTS
Hundreds of Americans are touring in Europe this year, including many of the war wealthy class. Dr. Kinsman said that 19 years ago when he was in Europe, just being from the United States was the equivalent of an introduction, but that now you pass Americans constantly just as you would in New York or Chicago without any sign of recognition.

Throughout Europe, the people who are suffering the most are those who had an independent income before the war. With the depreciation of securities and the loss of value in money itself, the formerly well to do class has now practically nothing on which to live. Many of these people have no profession or trade to which to turn and are forced to do the crudest kind of manual labor for a mere maintenance.

The actual necessities of the table including butter, eggs and meat have become luxuries to most people. The crop conditions seem good and every foot of land is being cultivated.

COUNCIL IS STUDYING PLANNING ORDINANCE
Copies of the proposed city planning and zoning ordinance that was recently submitted by Professor Leonard S. Smith of Madison, city planning engineer, have been multi-graphed. This will enable each of the members of the commission and the common council to study the ordinance carefully before any action is taken. Mayor Henry Reuter has announced that public hearings will be conducted in the different wards to give the public an opportunity to criticize the ordinance or suggest corrections and additions.

NO CHANGE IN LIST OF POPULAR BOOKS

While the demand for library books has remained somewhat the same for several weeks, this week shows the least variation of any. The list of books in greatest demand at the public library for the week ending Sept. 2 is the same as for the week ending Aug. 26. This is due partly to the fact that few new books are being talked about seriously just now when the majority of fall publications have not yet been released by the publisher and the demand for books at the end of the summer is light.

The list follows:
Gentle Julia ..... Tarkington
Marie Chapdelaine ..... Hemon
Saint Teresa ..... Harrison
Outline of History ..... H. G. Wells
Story of Manland ..... Van Loon

PAPERMILLS HERE RUN AT CAPACITY

Coal Enough in Millyards Here
To Keep Plants in Operation

All the paper mills of Appleton are running at practically full capacity and most of them have orders enough to keep them busy for some time. Wages in all plants have been increased to their former scale and there has been a corresponding improvement in the morale of the workmen.

Manufacturers have been inconvenienced very little by the railroad strike. One day no switching was done because the engines were out of commission, but they are again on duty. So far none of the mills have shut down because of lack of coal and while the supply of some of them is running low indications are they will get enough to keep in operation. The Northern Boiler & Structural Iron Works is running at full capacity. At present the plant is furnishing and erecting the structural steel for the new warehouse of the Appleton Coated Paper Co. It has also a similar contract for the Neenah Paper Co.

Above the windshield is a visor of distinctive design, there is a cowl ventilator, a gasoline gauge on the dash, a rear-view mirror, a transmission lock, the shifting lever has been extended. The entire car shows a completeness of equipment not to be found elsewhere within a thousand dollars of its price.

THE NOMINATION OF SENATOR AND GOVERNOR

The fundamental issue in next Tuesday's primary is whether we are to stick to or abandon constitutional government. The movement with which Senator La Follette and Governor Blaine are identified is not merely to set one class up against another, to take from those who have more and give to those who have less, but it is aimed at the overthrow of the system of government which is one hundred and forty odd years has contributed more to the happiness, freedom and welfare of its people than any other government in the history of the world.

Senator La Follette and Governor Blaine object to constitutional methods for improving social conditions. They desire to sweep aside the constitutional guarantees of liberty and property. They are so embittered against those engaged in business, those who have acquired property, that they propose to destroy the safeguards which guarantee the security of these blessings. They have employed all the artifices of demagoguery in an attempt to convince the people, with reckless denunciation of the well-to-do and misstatements of fact, that government as it exists today and has existed since the constitution was adopted, is responsible for every individual's misfortune, his improvidence, his shiftlessness or his failure to acquire as much of this world's goods as his neighbor.

That the logical sequence of the doctrines preached by Mr. La Follette and Mr. Blaine is state socialism or something equally bad is shown by their open affiliation in this campaign with the Socialist party. If we examine this propaganda in Wisconsin or the world over we will find that those who are advocating socialism or the radicalism that seeks to sweep away the foundations of property and individualism are as a class the least willing to work, the least willing to produce, the least willing to make real sacrifices to get ahead, the least willing to deal fairly and squarely with others.

Does the state of Wisconsin wish to capitulate to the element of discontent? Does it wish to turn its government and affairs over to those who would overthrow American institutions rather than improve conditions under them? Does it wish to embark upon state socialism, toward which the La Follette-Blaine element is surely propelling it? Do the farmers, whose proprietorship of land and right to what they produce and who would be the first to suffer from this rash experiment, wish to forego the securities and opportunities they now possess? Do they realize that orderly improvement of their condition is far more to be desired than the grasping at some mysterious bequest from the state itself?

Who will say that the farmer and the laborer have not made progress, extraordinary progress, in the improvement of their condition, in common with all other classes? How many working men own their homes today in comparison with those of twenty years ago? How many farm mortgages are there today in comparison with those of twenty years ago? What is the condition of roads, the condition of farm buildings, farm equipment, in comparison with that of a generation ago? How many people today, including those who labor with their hands, own motor cars where a generation ago they could not afford so much as a horse?

According to the philosophy of La Follette and Blaine the improvement has not been rapid enough for the reason that the structure of the state as conceived and erected by our forefathers is all wrong: Men who have a thousand dollars instead of two thousand, who have a home without a bathroom instead of a home with a bathroom, who drive a Ford instead of a fifteen hundred dollar car, who have two suits of clothes instead of four, who have a hundred acre farm instead of a two hundred acre farm, have not had a square deal. The state can wipe out this injustice and give to the man with two coats four coats, to the man earning four dollars a day eight dollars a day, to the man selling wheat for a dollar a bushel three dollars a bushel. The state will give riches to those who do not produce, along with those who produce, it will nullify economic laws, it will make the capability and merits of everyone alike whether they are so in fact or not. The rewards will be the same to the undeserving as to the deserving.

Against this socialistic and absurd doctrine stand Mr. Ganfield and Mr. Morgan, candidates for senator and governor. Neither Mr. Ganfield nor Mr. Morgan is a plutocrat, a profiteer, or a grafter. They are typical American citizens, who have faith in the government of the United States, who live simply and unostentatiously and who believe in the capacity of the American people to solve their problems and to improve their conditions under the institutions and through the processes by which this has become the foremost nation of the world. The choice on primary day next Tuesday will be between these men and the socialistic La Follette-Blaine ticket. If we wish to foment discontent and to continue and intensify the disorders which are keeping the country in a turmoil and which must certainly lead to rocks of destruction we will keep Mr. La Follette and Mr. Blaine where they are. But if we believe that each citizen of this commonwealth is a better maker of his own destiny and his own place than the state can ever be, that it is he and not the state who must do for him in his personal and private life, we will go back to solid ground and nominate Mr. Ganfield for the senate and Mr. Morgan for governor.

INCREASING DEMAND FOR FARM HORSES

Dr. A. T. Kingsley, of Kansas City, president of the American Veterinary Medical association, believes that there will be an increasing demand for good draft and saddle horses. The automobile will not drive the horse out of existence. It is conceded, he says, that the horse is the logical and economical power on the average American farm.

The automobile and motor truck have displaced the horse to a considerable extent in farm work. Therefore, it cannot be denied that, although there has been a steady demand for horses, especially in parts of the east and south, power vehicles have restricted the use of horses.

But Dr. Kingsley's observations are confirmed by conditions. The horse has been put back on many jobs. There is work which the horse can do better and cheaper than the motor vehicle. There is work which only the horse can do.

According to present indications, there should be an increasing demand for good horses, and not only on the farm, but in commerce. In fact, the horse is returning to his old work with many business concerns, and even in the large cities.

Spilling the Ocean Too

Lord Byron might never have written of the ocean, "Man marks the earth with ruin—his control stops with the shore," had he lived today. For ocean bathers along the New Jersey coast crawl spluttering out of the salt water coated with a film of oil, the refuse of the oil-burning steamers which ply up and down the coasts and across the mighty expanse of the sea.

We have become accustomed to "man's ravage" on the land, his hideous billboards defacing the landscape, his crooked farms, his track of desolation thru the timber, his decaying fences and unpainted barns, his congested slums and disordered and ugly railroad yards, and all the fields that have become his spoil. But it will be a shock to know that even the seas are not exempt and that their freshness is to be polluted and that their wild waves are to be painted with dirty grease.—LEXINGTON LEADER.

A Well Earned Rest

Nine tenths of the misguided folk who quit the job for a well earned rest would be much more benefited in mind and body if they were sentenced to hard labor for the duration of the vacation and a fairly computed maintenance ration to sustain them thru the ordeal.

Overwork and nervous breakdown are two of the best jokes conceivable to one who has not overworked or suffered a nervous breakdown. If you can't see anything humorous in these popular alibis you're in danger of an attack of overwork or a convenient or opportune nervous breakdown. Haven't you noticed how susceptible the embezzler is to overwork and how prone the grafting politician is to suffer nervous breakdown about the time the grand jury begins to sit around picking its teeth?

There is no sleeping potion quite so beneficial as the grateful effect of honest work, the kind that brings out honest sweat. Some cripples and invalids can't indulge in vigorous open air work or play, but there are few who can't enjoy the healthful advantages of daily exercise nevertheless. Seldom indeed are all of the voluntary muscles paralyzed at the same time.

Those who are so sweetly refined that they can't sweat honestly, deserve to lie awake nights thinking over their past life as a consequence as to the future. It is just retribution for ignoring the hygienic law.

No one who doesn't try the remedy for himself can ever attempt to estimate the sleep producing value of work or play in the open air. When I think of the thousands of deluded mortals who resort to hypnotic drugs of one kind or another to pound their guilty consciences into insensibility, when nothing under the sun prevents them from enjoying blessed slumber save their own morbid notions of work or exercise, I wonder whether all the health teaching and health preaching of modern times really takes.

Before the war foreign chemical firms introduced each season about as regularly as the French milliners brought out new hats, "improved" drugs of the narcotic or soporific class. The present season's styles of hypnotic invariably retained all the desirable qualities of last season's style and at the same time were far more untoward or injurious to the effects of last season's hypnotic. Of course last season's hypnotic never caused any untoward effects until confronted with this season's dose. This sort of buncombe was digested by many physicians, and consequently by their patients. Thus the people became afflicted with a varied assortment of hypnotic drugs, every one of which is injurious to the heart and kidneys and invariably does more harm than good in the long run, even if it does knock the victim into temporary unconsciousness. The man or woman who resorts to a hypnotic drug to bring sleep, on his or her own judgment, is treading dangerous ground. Each of the drugs employed to produce sleep is fully as injurious as chloral, the poison of "knockout drops."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Specific Advice

Please give me specific advice what to do in case of fallen stomach.—W. C. O.

Answer—Consult a physician. It is a sad mistake to imagine you can consult a physician by mail. This is a health department—no treatments give.

Is there any cure for knock knees? I am a girl 16 years of age. I get up at 7 o'clock and work from 9 to 5. What is the proper bedtime for a girl of my age? Mother thinks 10 o'clock is late enough but will abide with your advice.—Alma

Answer—Have the inner bones of your feet straightened once or twice a week. Always toe straight ahead or a trifle inward when walking and standing. Avoid long standing or carrying heavy loads. Bicycle riding and horseback riding (astride of course) are good. If there is more than six inches between the ankles when you stand erect with knees together, perhaps some surgical treatment is necessary. For health, strength and good looks a girl of 16 should hit the cornucopia of nature, get plenty of sleep, so mother isn't at all radical, you see. Shortage? Mother thinks 10 o'clock is late and worn and spoils their complexion.

How Hair Grows

Does hair grow from the clipped or cut ends or from the scalp?—S. P.

Answer—From the roots in the scalp.

Cause of Appendicitis

Be so kind as to tell me the cause of appendicitis and how to avoid it?—H. R. W.

Answer—Infection of the appendix by germs cultured in some way or focus elsewhere in the body, or that frequently colon bacilli made "wild" by abnormal conditions of the intestinal tract (dietetic errors), or pneumococci from infected tonsils or other foci about gums, teeth, nose or throat. I know of no particular prevention save general hygiene and special pains to eradicate or clear up the foci.

STEEL WAGE INCREASES BENE- FIT ENTIRE COUNTRY

No matter what the compelling reason really was, it generally is agreed that the recent wage-increases in the steel industry will have a most beneficial effect on all of the nation's activities. Editors seem to feel that the present immigration laws have their effect but there is little disposition displayed to criticize because of this. A few papers, notably the New York EVENING WORLD, characterize the wage advance as "window dressing" because of the certain passage of the new tariff bill which places a duty on steel.

The increase recognizes, the Newark NEWS says, "that living costs are not coming down and that where they are not the steel industry is upward bound. In a sense this wage increase may be regarded as the steel men's answer to President Harding, who called them into conference a few months ago to urge upon them, if possible, the establishment of a basic eight hour day. This is an industry in which the laborers are unwilling to take reductions in pay by cuts in their working time." Also the immigration laws must be considered in this connection the Springfield REPUBLICAN avers, as "the present immigration law is undoubtedly keeping out of the country thousands of common laborers such as the iron and steel industry absorbs." The announcement, however, "is the best industrial news of the year," the Buffalo NEWS thinks as "when affairs fall well with the steel trade all is on the way to be well with the general business of the country. The steel industry is something of a trade barometer."

"Window dressing," is the way the New York EVENING WORLD describes the move holding "the tariff explains it. The tariff profiteers are doing a little window dressing. They are also preparing to bang the old dinner pail handed down from the McKinley campaign." The Milwaukee JOURNAL also thinks that the tariff is a factor but it likewise suggests that "the steel business apparently registers the shortage of common labor generally reported throughout the country." The advance should be followed in other industries with "a raise of pay where it has been reduced during the liquidation period."

The "best explanation is the simplest," the Buffalo TIMES insists, as "the steel industry raises the pay of labor in its employ to keep in line with the trend of the times. Having decided that to guarantee a living wage is the thing to do, steel does it with emphasis and efficiency. As a psychological moment. No sentiment enters into the matter. It is big business and good business."

There seems little grounds for the suspicion, the Chicago NEWS feels, that the increase is a "seeking to enlist the support of labor by offering to share illegitimate gains with employees. As a matter of fact economic conditions, justify, if they do not actually make imperative, the action of the steel companies."

The 20 per cent in wages is deemed necessary by practical men. Wage readjustments upward are just as inevitable as readjustments downward when economic factors and industrial conditions demand them. The action also "reflects a period of unusual prosperity in the steel industry." The Springfield ILLINOIS STATE JOURNAL says, "the public is so ignorant that the steel manufacturers today have more unfilled orders on their books than in many years, that prices of all classes and grades of steel have advanced sharply and that the shares and the bonds of the steel companies have shown marked improvement in recent months."

The Little ROCK ARKANSAS DEMOCRAT feels the same way, arguing that "it is difficult to believe that the raise is the result of a political move. Shortage of labor and the expectation of a brisk business revival seem to be the more probable cause."

A "good thing at this time," holds the Denver ROCKY MOUNTAIN NEWS, because "the American steel industry is so entrenched as to command the world. A substantial increase to half a million per annum at least is going to go a long way toward the industrial atmosphere everywhere. Common labor is reaching a premium on account of the present immigration laws. On the other side if it were not for the existing American law some of the unfortunate countries of Europe would be sending here their people by swarms, limited only by transportation facilities. The Louisville COURIER JOURNAL thinks, "that the wages of the steel workers have been deflated more than similar wages generally and that it was necessary to make the increase in order to prevent the steel workers from seeking other employment. Of course the bill will be passed on to the consumer."

The Mobile REGISTER goes further to explain that "the wage increase merely places the back where they were when the steel business began to decline in 1921. The steel companies' way may not be the perfect way, but it is surely better than walk-outs and other incessant wranglings encouraged by the wrong type of labor leaders." And it must also be remembered, the Birmingham AGE-HERALD adds, that "the steel corporations have trimmed or unfurled its sails according to the trade winds affecting its operations. The idle speculation indulged in, even in high places, as to the motive has not reflected intelligence where one should expect it. The corporation simply did the routine of its long-established and very wise course of action."

The Wheeling REGISTER, however, argues that "it might not be too much to expect the increase to mark a definite turning away from Mr. Harding's program of deflation. No country can be prosperous unless its people are prosperous. Good earnings by the laborer and farmer bring free spending and free spending means better earnings for the merchant, business man and manufacturer, industry expands and prosperity is general." The increase, the Washington POST says, "will still leave their pay 25.9 per cent below the 1920 peak, but the new scale will be 30 per cent above the pre-war average. With a 'new selling scale' the increase will be passed along to the public in the price of steel fabrications," the Philadelphia PUBLIC LEDGER says, and "there is room for speculation in the possibilities that the 20 per cent increase will or will not have something to do with a change in working conditions and the 12 hour day in the steel industry. We wait for light upon that."

"In themselves the new steel wages are not high," insists the New York GLOBE, but they will be very much nearer in line with the cost of living than those now paid." The effect "will be felt in several quarters of the country and in differing grooves of life," according to the Duluth NEWS TRIBUNE, as "both the merchantile world and professional men are benefited by easier conditions in the family purse of the laboring man."

DOCTOR DEFENDS ALCOHOL
London—A Glasgow dispatch to the Express says:
"The normal man does not exist."
This cheerful proposition was put forward by Dr. John MacCurdy, of Cornell University Medical College, New York, in an address he gave here to the British Medical Association on alcohol in its relation to the human economy.

All of us, in varying degrees, he said, had the same difficulty in meeting the world as the unfortunate who demonstrated their incapacity dramatically. The "normals" drugged themselves with cheap fiction, theatres, and moving pictures. Above all, they forgot themselves in social intercourse.

"When, however, a man is tired or oppressed with care, how can he forget his obsessing anxieties with self-consciousness and delicately to be 'social'?" He can take a drink, and he does. If he be normal, a small amount of alcohol will give the necessary relaxation.

"Conviviality is more important for the maintenance of our mental stability and effectiveness than we realize. 'Innumerable people are made happier and therefore healthier by moderate indulgence in alcohol. Imperfect largely because we have not yet gained the capacity to govern our town instincts. Alcohol is a crutch that man has discovered to help him with this disability.'"

Dr. MacCurdy dealt with what he called the "paranoid group."

He said, a drink or two brought out quarrelsome and dangerous tendencies. They were apt to imagine slights and insults. Frequently they were women haters, and affected the company of men almost exclusively.

"These men are not well adapted people, and rebel at discipline or authority. Drink brings these anti-social tendencies to the surface. As marriage makes the most persistent demand for social adaptation that we know of, many of these men begin to drink only after marriage."

The innate rebellion at the bondage of marriage appears when alcohol has liberated their inhibitions. They become querulous, and beat or abuse their wives every Saturday night.

"Later delusions and infidelity may appear, and the man finally become fixed. Then the victim becomes certifiable, and is confined."

NO SPEECH IN 22 YEARS

London — There is a member of the House of Commons who has been able to write M. P. after his name for 22 years, and has not yet made his maiden speech, the political correspondent of the Daily News writes.

He is Mr. John Hope, who sits as a Coalition Liberal for Berwick and Haddington.

Mr. Hope, who is a very regular attendant at the House, has the rare record at seven contested county elections, in which he has fought every political party, and on occasions had the support of every political party. But in the House of Commons itself his voice has never been heard.

"Why don't I speak in the House?" echoed Mr. Hope when asked the question. "Well, I have found that I can do more by not talking."

"When I entered the House first of all I had no idea of never making a speech."

"But time went on and the maiden speech was 'till undelivered—although I have been tempted to do it more than once and friends have urged me to break the record—and now I am afraid it never will be delivered."

The secret of his prolonged silence is not inability to speak—he can talk very effectively—or even shyness. It is this. When Mr. Hope wants some information, or desires to get something done, he goes direct to the responsible minister.

As a popular and genial man, who does not attempt to browbeat Ministers across the floor of the House, he is received with sympathy and generally obtains satisfaction, if it is possible.

And so Mr. Hope goes on being successfully silent.

The silence of Mr. Hope recalls the classic 18th century story of "Single Speeches" (William Gerard Hamilton) popularly, but wrongly supposed to have addressed the House but once. And there is a legend of an M. P. who opened his lips on one occasion only—then to ask that a window behind him might be closed.

Wine Flood Locked Up

Enough wine to give every American a pint and a half is locked up in California's bonded warehouses and wineries. The total is over 21,000,000 gallons.

That seems a lot, and is. But it would be interesting, probably surprising, to compare it with the amount of wine locked up in one season's California raisin crop. Nearly every acre seems to have a key to this particular lock.

John D. Appleby, head prohibition agent in the New York District, tells amazing facts about rum-runners' profits.

Forty cases of rye whisky, the regulation load for a hoosh-smuggler's airplane, cost $150 in Canada. Land-locked in New York, the cargo sells for $400. The pilot's rake-off is $500, leaving a "handsome profit" for the head of the business.

Those profits, diverted to Uncle Sam by income tax or otherwise, would soon make a hole in the national debt. But there's no way to check up a bootlegger's income any more than a burglar's.

Every language and dialect spoken in the world is being recorded on copper phonograph discs in Berlin by Prof. Wilhelm Doegen.

He says the records will last 10,000 years.

If they do, and are played in the year 1922, will anyone except scholars be able to understand them? Ten thousand years from now speech may be a lost art, with people conversing by mental telepathy.

All medicine is not bitter. Sometimes health advice is pleasant, requiring no work, no self-denial. Interesting sample is offered in the Medical Review of Reviews. It queried doctors in 46 states. Three out of four of the physicians advise eating a hearty breakfast.

One authority says the digestive apparatus is at its best after a night's sleep. The system, like a furnace, is low on fuel in the morning and needs a good-sized meal.

Rawlins, head of Illinois State Department of Health, says it's even safer to have pie with our bacon and eggs. Ralph Waldo Emerson always ate pie for breakfast.

How many eggs do you eat? Department of Agriculture says the average American eats only half an egg a day. It advises us to eat more henfruit, the cleanest food that reaches consumers—also the most nourishing, taken raw or cooked.

The department adds statistics showing that our national debt is one dollar for each egg laid by all American hens so far this year. Let that sink in and we are not apt to refer to billions so glibly.

The fear emotion is working overtime. Insurance-Press, trade paper, says that Americans this year will take out a total of $9,000,000,000 of new life insurance.

Life insurance is growing eight times faster than our population. A fortunate situation, for at least seven times of men would leave their families practically penniless except for insurance, systematic and scientific saving. Bet them that you will die before they expect you to.

Q. Was there ever such a man as Captain Kidd? H. D. M.

A. William Kidd, better known as Captain Kidd, was a real person, who lived from about 1650 to 1701. He was born in Scotland, went to sea at an early age, and became a trader out of New York. He is commissioned by William III of England as a privateer and he was given permission to capture pirates. A company which may have included the king benefited financially by his successes.

1696 his adventures began to take on a piratical character. He was proclaimed a pirate, arrested in 1699, and after an unfair trial, he was condemned and executed. Since he held Government commissions authorizing him to suppress piracy, it is hard to determine what part of his operations were legitimate and what part otherwise. There has been much rumormongering about the treasure buried by him concerning treasures buried by him prior to his capture, and he was many times searched. The Quedah Merchant, an Armenian vessel which he captured had a rich cargo and part of this was recovered from its hiding place on Gardiner's Island off Montauk Point, Long Island.

Q. How does the English language compare with others in number of words? R. E.

A. English approximates 450,000 words. German, 300,000; French, 210,000; Russian, 140,000; Spanish 120,000; Italian, 140,000.

Q. What is the value of the clover seed produced in the United States? A. The farm value of grass and clover seed produced in 1919 was nearly $31,000,000.

Q. Is there a good automobile road across Canada? S. D. F.

A. British Columbia and Alberta are building roads that will give Canada a through automobile route from coast to coast.

Q. When did the Denver Mint first coin one-cent pieces? M. E. S.

A. The Denver Mint first coined pennies in 1911.

Q. Can you tell me where to apply for an overseas pack? I am told that the Government gives them to ex-soldiers. F. D. C.

A. The Quartermaster Corps says that it is too late to obtain an outfit such as you desire.

Q. To which country do we export the most merchandise? J. G.

A. During the fiscal year 1921-22 merchandise was exported from the United States to the United Kingdom valued at $443,897,314. Canada was second with $346,445,352, and Germany third, with $350,442,433.

HER AILMENTS ALL GONE NOW

Mrs. Sherman Helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lake, Michigan.—"About one year ago I suffered with irregularities and times was obliged to stay in my bed. I doctored with our family physician and he finally said he could not understand my case, so I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After I had taken the first bottle I could see that I was getting better. I took several bottles of the Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and I am entirely cured of my ailments. You may publish this letter if you wish."

Mrs. M. SHERMAN, Route 2, Lake, Mich.

There is one fact women should consider and that is this: Women suffer from irregularities and various forms of weakness. They try this and that doctor, as well as different medicines. Finally they take Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound, and Mrs. Sherman's experience is simply another case showing its merit.

If your family physician fails to help you and the same old troubles persist, why isn't it reasonable to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound?

Day's News of Wisconsin and Outagamie County

TRAINING SCHOOL CAN'T SUPPLY ALL NEEDED TEACHERS

All Graduates of 1922 Class Have Positions—Building Is Renovated

Kaukauna—Outagamie-co. training school began its eleventh year on Monday morning, Aug. 25 with a much larger enrollment than it has enjoyed for several years. There are 65 registered for the year and several more will come later. The enrollment is mostly from Outagamie-co. but several other counties are represented also. A number are high school graduates.

Miss Veronica Nichols, class of '22, spent Monday at the school. Miss Harry Long of the class of '22 and Miss Frances Huse of the same class spent Tuesday at the school.

Every graduate of the class of 1922 is now under contract to teach school for next year with the exception of one. The salaries received this year are a bit lower than last year but the general feeling is about the same. Three calls for teachers were received at the school on Wednesday and there was but one graduate still unhired. There will be a scarcity of teachers this year because all available teachers are engaged.

The redecoration of some of the rooms and halls at the school has added greatly to the comfort and lighting of the school. The students commented highly upon the improvement when they returned for the year.

KIDS PREPARING FOR FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL TERM

School for Subnormal Children is New Department — Start on Tuesday

Kaukauna—Public schools in Kaukauna open again on Tuesday, Sept. 5. Barbers had a rushing business of kids from little tots to big kids who prepared for their first day of school by getting a fresh hair cut. Mothers have just about finished the task of getting their children's clothes in proper shape for the day. School pupils and students are required to enrol as soon as possible so that there will be little delay in getting regular lessons under way. Many high school students visited the high school office Saturday and planned their programs for the year.

According to custom pupils will not be held long on Tuesday. When preliminary arrangements are made and announcements have been given they will be dismissed until Wednesday.

In every school a record enrollment is anticipated. It is expected the schools will be more crowded than before in spite of the fact that portions of the first four grades in Nicolet school will be transferred to the Outagamie County Training school to be used as a model school for practice teachers.

A new department at the school will be the ungraded school or school for subnormal children. Children who have impediments will be placed under the supervision of a separate teacher. Indications are that at least 30, probably more, pupils will be placed in that department.

SPECULATORS IN MAD SCRAMBLE IN UPPER SELISIA

Wild Mania of Speculation Recalls Days of Gold Rush in California

Kreusberg—A wild mania of speculation, recalling the days of the California gold fever, already has appeared in connection with the partition of Upper Silesia. The danger of losing certain established trade connections through such a stampede, however, is preventing some German traders from entering new combinations, the purpose of which is the promotion of common interests on either side of the boundary. But there is a tendency among German firms whose connections do not make it necessary for them to remain in the territory now acquired by Poland to remove to the German side of the border. These migrants continue to retain their premises on the other side of the line pending developments. The first days of the opening of the frontier have witnessed the invasion of various cities by dealers from one side or the other in a mad rush to buy up such articles as are useful in their particular lines of business. It seems likely that the Upper Silesia trade center, which hitherto has been Breslau, will be shifted to Cracow.

A considerable movement is noticeable also in the ranks of labor. Many German workmen are crossing the line, preferring to take their chances in the Fatherland rather than continue their former employment on Polish soil under Polish labor conditions.

CARPENTER HIT BY FALLING BEAM

Hans Rasmussen Suffered Scalp Wound While Working on Bear Creek Garage

Bear Creek—Hans Rasmussen, a carpenter, suffered a painful scalp wound Friday afternoon while employed with the construction crew erecting the new garage here for Nelson and Paul. It slipped and the steel beam fell, striking Mr. Rasmussen on the head. He was not rendered unconscious. A physician took several stitches to close the wound.

"BABY BANDITS" ARE SENTENCED

Lads, Fourteen and Sixteen Sent To Reform School After Admissions

By Associated Press
Green Bay — A tale of "baby bandits" that was unfolded in municipal court here last Friday, had as its sequel a sentence in the reform school for two of the boys involved and resulted in a third youngster being placed under the care of his father until his case is dismissed.

Tessa Sager, 14 and Oliver Wensa, 16, were ordered committed to the Industrial School for Boys at Waukesha. Emil Sager, 13, was released. The Sager boys are from a farm near Stephenson, Mich., while Wensa claims Menominee, Mich., as his home. According to the story of the boys, they left their home about August 1 and worked on farms until they acquired $30. With this amount they started their career in search of adventure, which came to an abrupt end when the trio were arrested at Two Harbors, Minn., and brought here to face a charge of grand larceny in connection with the theft of an automobile which they admitted they stole here.

An appeal by the father of the two Sager boys for leniency was denied by Judge N. J. Monahan, who declared the "admitted evidence made it impossible to grant any clemency."

STOLEN REGISTER FOUND AT RIVER

Cash, Container and Slot Machine Are Carried From Buelow Saloon and Looted

Sugar Bush—The cash register which three alleged burglars now in the county jail at Appleton stole from the Robert Buelow saloon here Saturday night, Aug. 26, was found at New London. Children playing on the river bank discovered it there and its presence as called to the attention of authorities.

Entrance to the saloon was gained through a rear door which was pried open. A box of cigars, the cash register and a slot machine were taken. It is presumed that these articles were loaded into an automobile and carried away, the register to be opened elsewhere and the money removed. The amount of cash missing has not been revealed.

Vote For W. F. WINSEY Republican Candidate for Register of Deeds

Supporting the Farmer-Labor movement for economic justice.

Your vigorous support will be appreciated. Do you know that on Jan. 1, 1920, the fees of the register of deeds were nearly doubled without apparent cause. That's one way the "wealth the county" was not protected by the office. The wages of labor were reduced at that time.

One may view with growing alarm, constantly increasing taxation in one form or another with no corresponding equivalent in the pay envelope of the working man.

To introduce reform, let us cancel life leases of county office with their constantly mounting costs and danger of selfish manipulation.

I shall consider your active support before and on election day a choice compliment.

Schools Renovated And Decorated For First Day Of Fall Term On Tuesday

Minor Improvements Have Been Made In Nearly All the Schools During the Summer Vacation Period.

When Appleton's army of school boys and girls retraces its footsteps to the schools left vacant last June, it will find the old familiar school rooms looking as bright as a dollar. While pupils have been enjoying their vacation the buildings have been washed and scrubbed from top to bottom. Improvements and repairs are also noticeable in every school building of the city. Probably the most extensive of these have been made on the Fourth ward school, although many changes will be seen at all the schools.

Although improvements on the high school building were carried on less extensively than in previous years, the housecleaning work was conducted practically all through the summer. The building is in good repair. Cement floors in the basement have been repainted. New steel lockers have been provided for the convenience of the students. Repairs have been made on the heating plant.

NEW TYPEWRITERS
One of the additions at the Vocational school is an equipment of typewriters to go with the new commercial course that will be taught this year. Typewriter tables and chairs are also provided. Weather straps have been placed on the building and the machine shop is supplied with new guards. In addition, walls have been redecorated and floors have been refinished.

A new fire alarm system will be in use at the First Ward school for use in drills. The kindergarten room has been fitted with a cupboard that is built into the wall. New wash-bowls are being installed in the corridors. The domestic science room has been remodeled. A new cement floor has been laid in a boiler room and all basement floors have been repainted. Repair work has been done on boilers. Some improvement has also been made on the school grounds.

BETTER LIGHTS

An important improvement on all three schools of the Second district, the Lincoln, Columbus and Franklin schools, is the installation of a new lighting system. Rooms have been furnished with 100 watt lamps, enclosed in shades and suspended by chains at a comfortable height. Drop lights also are suspended over the teachers' desks. Five rooms in the district have been redecorated. Floors in all three buildings have been oiled and all desks have been cleaned. Bookcases have been built in walls. Minor repairs were made on foundations and all toilet rooms were repainted. Special changes in the Franklin school are plastering of the ceiling of the manual training room and of the ceiling of the north entrance, also a set of practical adjustable window shades.

Concrete floors of the Third and Fifth ward schools have been entirely resurfaced, basement ceilings have been painted and toilet rooms have been renovated. All desks in the Third district have been revarnished and the wooden floors have been refinished. Changes have been made on the lighting fixtures, individual switch buttons replacing the general ones. New up-to-date maps and modern scientific apparatus has been added for the use of upper grades. Boilers in the Lincoln school have been repaired and retubed. The roof also has been repaired and made airtight. The steel storm of last winter almost ruined the ceilings of the upper floor.

REDECORATE BUILDING

Among the most extensive improvements are those on the Fourth ward school, Richmond school, the other school of the Fourth district, had been redecorated a year ago and was therefore in little need of repair. The larger school was this summer redecorated almost throughout. The domestic science room was entirely remodeled and retubed. Blue and white enamel is the color scheme used. A new linoleum has been laid and more equipment has been added. An innovation is to be found in the new stock room in which stationery and supplies are to be stored. A businesslike record is to be kept of all stock, just like in factories, and an inventory will always be up-to-date. One of the most welcome improvements is a new playground equipment of a "shoot-the-chutes" tester-totters, gymnastic outfits with rings and parallel bars. More playground equipment is expected to be added later. To carry out the junior high school idea the manual training course has been enlarged by the installation of a set of blacksmith's forges.

The former Venetian blinds have been replaced with duck adjustable window shades which are intended to eliminate eye strain. Blackboards have been rubbed down with emery dust to remove the gloss as a further aid to the eyes. In addition, there was the usual cleaning, varnishing and painting.

ACCOMMODATE MORE PUPILS

Among the parochial schools, Sacred Heart school has been made a new school by a thorough renovation. Walls have been painted, woodwork varnished and floors oiled. New benches have also been installed to accommodate more pupils. A number of repairs also were made. A retaining wall has been built at St. Joseph school to protect the grounds against further washouts. The roof has been repaired and the exterior woodwork painted. The tower also was repainted. School desks within the building were revarnished. The usual housecleaning was done in St. Mary school. Desks were varnished and the walls of the school rooms were repainted. Interior walls of St. Paul school were repainted. Some of the floors were oiled and others painted. A new roof was placed on the belfry. One furnace was repaired and some changes were made in the toilet rooms. The principal's room, too has been refurnished. The interior was washed.

Zion Lutheran school also underwent a thorough renovation and cleaning. The walls of one room were painted and the floors of all rooms and corridors were oiled. New seats were installed and additional cement floor has been laid in the basement.

CHARGED CHAIN SHOCKS WORKMAN

Richard Jansen Is Victim of Near-electrocution at Kimberly-Clark Mill

Richard Jansen of Little Chute experienced a near-electrocution and suffered a scalp wound while working with a construction crew at Kimberly-Clark mill of Kimberly-Clark company Friday morning.

Jansen was given first aid treatment at the mill and then was taken to his home. His condition is not believed to be serious.

The workmen took hold of a heavy chain just as a wire connected to an electric motor fell upon it. A high voltage passed through Jansen's body and he was unable to free his hands. Prompt aid by another workman enabled him to let go of the chain before the contact proved serious. Jansen fell backward on the floor as he was extricated and cut a severe gash in the back of his head.

The JORDAN Blue Boy in Blue Devil Blue

Supple, animated, full of warmth, a husky and happy companion for the charming Jordan Playboy has arrived.

It's the Jordan Blue Boy, in Blue Devil Blue.

It isn't fair to call it a four passenger sport model.

You can't just put a racing saddle on a farm horse and put him in the derby. You must have that little touch of something between the bit and the bumper which makes you feel like starting from Cedar Rapids directly for London, England or Paris, France.

This pepful new motor car looks like a million dollars and acts exactly like a rabbit when he's scared.

Try it while there's youth and life to spare.

When the last dull guest has gone to bed on a night so light that none can see a star—and winter seems the only time for sleep—choose for a companion someone to whom the world is always new.

Then the Blue Boy—in Blue Devil Blue.

Step on her, boy, and lightly leave the hot streets for twilight roads.

Desert the town and just go and go—as free as the corner of the scarlet veil, wind tossed against the evening sky.

No road guide for the playmates of the Blue Boy. Five roads and turn to the right. Five roads and turn to the left.

The Blueboy in Blue Devil Blue, was built for those happy people who bought a Playboy for their honeymoon but now want a little more room for the friends they take for an afternoon of golf.

You won't have to worry about the luggage. There's a wonderful trunk at the rear carrying everything you could wish or want.

The Blue Boy is dressed like some wonderful somebody with a charge account with Abercrombie and Fitch.

The wheel base has been lengthened for lowness—cushions hug the floor. The body was designed for a $7000 car—frankly copied by Jordan.

The top fits like a swanky sport hat—and all is slender—'cept the tires—they are fat. Deliveries in September to a few.

SERBS REBUILD ANCIENT CAPITAL OF THEIR COUNTRY

New Streets of Asphalt, New Dwellings and New Buildings Mark Work

By Associated Press
Belgrade, Yugoslavia.—To make this capital a worthy setting to the magnificent territorial patrimony to which they have fallen heir the Serbs are working swiftly. They are cutting new streets, paving them with asphalt instead of cobble stones and erecting new dwellings and public buildings. A prize of $5,000 was awarded recently for a new city plan

Fourteen hundred new buildings went up in 1921 and 4,000 are going up this year. A new hotel has just been completed opposite the station. It was begun before the war, and used as a barracks. But its walls have been reinforced and the building was completed and opened two days before the wedding of King Alexander. The city is still overpopulated. Residence has been refused to 60,000 persons. Prices in the city are very high and should the local money improve in value, Belgrade will rival Constantinople as a city of huge expense for living. House rents are prohibitive for the native, and for the foreigner they range upwards of $100 monthly.

Farm land within 30 miles of Belgrade sells from $100 to $300 an acre, a big price when converted into the dinar currency of the country. The Hotel Moscow, within the city, recently sold for 14,000,000 dinars, or upwards of $200,000, a price that astonished strangers. The best buildings within the city at the present time are the two palaces of the king, located centrally and adjoining. A Parliament building is partially constructed. Other offices for public uses are planned. Some portion of the new American loan will be used for projected public buildings.

Big Belt Out

Damage done to the new trenching machine received by Anthony Thomason for use in digging mains on Appleton streets has the appearance of wanton destruction, according to Fred R. Morris, secretary of the water commission. An elevator belt of 18 inch width was cut in two and a water jacket that fits around a cylinder was damaged.

LONDON INVENTOR CAN FORCE WATER TO RUN UP HILL

Energy of Rising Tides Can Be Utilized By This Novel
Invention

London.—A water-lifting apparatus which seems to flout the natural law that water cannot run uphill and by which the tremendous energy of the rising tides may be harnessed for use by man, is an invention of Thomas G. Allen, graduate of Washington University, St. Louis, and now a British subject. The "Hydrautomat", as the apparatus is called, is the result of two years of experiments. A working model has been viewed by scores of engineers, some of whom have been baffled by the simplicity of the cycle of operation. It has lifted water 20 feet above the river level.

A hydrautomat is designed to raise water in any quantity from a running stream to any desired height without the use of standard equipment such as pumps, rams or water-wheels. The apparatus harnesses two natural sources of energy, the weight of a column of water and atmospheric pressure. By means of a series of tanks, one above the other, and a sluice-gate, which alternately brings suction and pressure forces into play, 80 per cent of the energy of the pressure water used is obtained. The height required is reached by carrying the series of tanks, alternating open and closed chambers, together with air conducting pipes, to the desired height.

It is believed there is unlimited scope for the hydrautomat on streams where hydraulic power developments are not feasible because of the small amount of fall. One of the first applications is expected to be on irrigation projects.

In a broad sense, according to the inventor, the purpose of the hydrautomat is to convert the contained energy of large quantities of water at a low head into that of a smaller quantity of water at a high head, or to compel a stream to hoist part of itself up over the land for commercial or agricultural purposes. The principle is fixed, the application is to be determined by local requirements.

DISARMAMENT TREATY GIVES WORK TO MANY

London.—One result of the Washington disarmament conference has been to provide employment for thousands of idle men, who will be engaged for many months in reducing Britain's sea monsters to scrap. There are 11 battleships, several light cruisers, and considerable smaller craft awaiting destruction in accordance with the Washington naval limitation treaty. It will require many months of laborious work to completely dismantle them.

MASONRY-BUILT Nearly 300 Years Ago

THIS sturdy old house was built at Medford, Massachusetts, in 1632 for Governor Craddock of the Massachusetts Bay Colony. It is one of the oldest dwellings in the original portion of the United States. For nearly three hundred years it has withstood the ravages of time and weather and is today a comfortable home and a living monument to the durability of masonry construction.

The Economy of Permanence

Building with brick or hollow tile secures you a home that endures. The Craddock house has outlived four or five ordinary houses. This indicates the vast amount of money saved by masonry.

Appraisers estimate the life of a Masonry-Built Home as one hundred years, figuring 1% a year for depreciation, as against fifty years for frame at 2% annual depreciation.

Maintenance, which includes painting, repairs and general upkeep, and is distinct from depreciation, is calculated at 1/2% a year for the Masonry-Built Home, and 2% to 3% for frame. The great economy of permanent, masonry construction is self-evident.

Comfort and Enjoyment of the MASONRY-BUILT HOME

Aside from the economy, Masonry-Built Homes afford utmost healthfulness, enjoyment and comfort. The firm, enduring walls mean coolness in summer and warmth in winter. They preserve dryness. Fuel is conserved. The unlimited variety of charming colors and textures offered in brick gives boundless possibilities for delightful, individual home designs. And not to be forgotten is the safety and security from the fear and fact of fire.

WOMEN AT 60 STEP WITH FLAPPERS IN ERA OF LONGEVITY

Feminine Span of Life Has Increased—"Grandma" Feeling Can't Creep In

By Margaret Robe
With silver hair beneath their caps. In days gone by our grandmas sat. With dimming eyes and palsied limbs. They'd gently rock and knit and chat.

Today our grandmas seldom sit. They're all too full of life and vim. Their hair is bobbed, not patsy makes. Them shake a very wicked limb.

New York.—They say a woman is as old as she feels. If that is true then that other cynical statement about the fair sex, that they have no feelings, must be veracious also. Recent statistics show that the average span of life for females in this country has increased 27 1/2 years since 1910. In our times the average longevity of the ladies is 54.77 and the truly rural feminine life reaches an average of 57.41 years. In spite of statistical proof that their years are increasing the fact remains on the face of things that they are also growing younger every year they gain.

A generation ago the average woman of 60 was classed as an aged creature. Her sparse white hairs were pulled up under a cap, her back was bent and her joints were gnarled. She affected felt slippers and woolen lingerie and sat peering through her specs as the world swept past her.

DIFFERENT NOW
Nowadays the woman of 60 sweeps right along with the jolly old maid. Same sphere she looks up her French heels as she sweeps and is just a few flaps ahead of the flapper. If her hair isn't bobbed, then it is elaborately dressed and the sparkling eyes that look out from under carefully arched brows wink gayly at the advancing years until 60 is a memory and 70 a promise.

With kittenish young flappers like Edna Wallace Hooper, confessing to 68 years, it's no wonder poor old Father Time looks wan and discouraged. Hymen on the other hand is beginning to perk up and take notice. When blushing brides of 79 like Mrs. Elizabeth Eastman Johnson are led to the altar by dashing 77-year-old bridegrooms like Gen. Stillman F. Kneeland, it means both Cupid and Eros will have to work overtime and no longer expect to sit back and coo all active attentions to humans over 40.

Like everything else in which she is given half a chance woman is ahead of man in this longevity business. Of course, there are a few of those over-80-year-old youths like Henry Clives, John Wyanmaker, Chauncey Dopey and "Uncle" Joe Cannon who are still very much in the running, but statistics prove that the average life span of the city man is but 51.55 and the country male 55.23. Still that is an increase of 3.75 since 1910, so the ladies must need look to their laurels. The old boys are sure stepping up a faster.

The good old reliable statistics also prove that with the average span of male life at 59.73 years and the female at 60.7, that folks all live longer out in Bleeding Kansas. But then, who'd want to?

"WETS" ARE FIGHTING HER

LADY NANCY ASTOR

By Milton Bronner
Plymouth, England.—Booze is going to be one of the big factors in the fight Lady Nancy Astor faces—the greatest fight of her political life.

This daughter of Virginia, the first woman to sit in the British Parliament, has returned from her triumphal tour of America to find various forces trying to dislodge her from the House of Commons, where she represents a Plymouth constituency.

There will be a parliamentary election next year, or sooner if the premier decrees it. And Lady Astor, sitting as a Conservative, finds various Conservatives—mainly pro-booze—opposed to giving her the nomination because of her pronounced dry leanings.

Talking with people here, I found women voters strong for Lady Astor. "We like her dry views, and her advocacy of measures designed to protect women and children. We like her breezy democracy and her old-fashioned Christianity."

"SHE'S U. S. IMPORTATION"
A politician put it this way: "She's an American importation and she's trying to force American prohibition on us."

Said a shopkeeper: "Lady Astor has been an industrious member of Parliament, but she is too much the friend of Lloyd George. We want somebody who will break from him if he doesn't stand for what the Conservative majority wants."

Adventures Of The Twins

Comet-Legs Worsted
Nancy and Nick had some magic powder in a salt-shaker Mr. Peenaboot had given them. He had said: "Any time you get near enough to that mischievous fairy, Comet Legs, sprinkle a little on his legs. They will lose their crookedness and become straight. He will lose his power and won't be able to ride his shooting star any more."

When the moon acted so crazily and the Twins found Comet Legs fooling with the handles that ran the moon they thought of the powder.

Comet-Legs was so busy he didn't see them and before you could have cracked your thumb Nick had sprinkled powder on the fairy's crooked calves.

Comet-Legs gave a yell like a fire whistle. "Oh Ouch!" he cried. "What's the matter? Oh, my legs! My nice, lovely, crooked legs! They're getting straight! Oh, now I can't ride my star any more! I can't visit my wicked relatives! Oh! Oh! Oh!"

Comet-Legs kept hopping around on one foot and talking like a phonograph. But he stopped finally and rubbed his eyes.

He looked at Nancy and Nick. "So it's you, is it?" he said. "I just said to Eena Meena, my cousin the magician, 'Watch those kids! They're up to something. Coming all the way up to the moon to help old peeraboot! They'll do something yet! And now you've up and gone and done it! But I'll get even. That powder makes anything that is curved straight. I want it. Give it here!'"

And he jerked the shaker from Nick's hand. "If I shake some of this powder on the moon, it will change from round to square. And I'm going to do it!" he cried.

Away he ran.

LULLABY LADY

DOROTHY TERRISS

"The Lullaby Lady" is the unofficial title of Dorothy Terriss.

She earned it because she has probably written more lullabies than any other song writer.

She has written lullabies for Hawaiian, Indian, Chinese, Spanish, Russian and Icelandic infants and now she has just done "The Indiana Lullaby" for her own country babies.

But Miss Terriss does not write for the babies. She writes for the mothers.

"The baby doesn't understand the words anyhow," she explains, "it is the mother who should enjoy the sentiment. That's why my lullabies are love songs—that's what the mother really loves to sing."

Household Hints

BROCADES
Broadened chifon velvet is to be very popular this winter because it adapts itself so admirably to the present styles. Frequently the patterns are outlined with beads for extra elaboration.

FOR NEGLIGEEES
Tie-dyed fabrics are much in demand for negligees and house frocks. They may be had in different materials, including crepes, madams and satins.

LACE FANS
Fans in black lace over metal cloth which brings out the design are shown for fall. They have a certain Spanish feeling which makes them harmonize with the high combs and lace and embroidered shawls.

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED
You know it is decidedly unconventional to permit men to call at your room if you are staying at a hotel. You go down to the hotel parlor or reception room and receive them there. If the visit is of a purely personal nature you may go without a hat, but is the call has any business significance you wear it.

ENGLISH HOMES ARE THREATENED BY "FREE LOVE"

Movement On To Put Stop to "Passionate Affinity" In Roads of Families

London.—The movement in England to protect the family from the assaults of the "passionate affinity" and the "canker of free love" will find expression next October in an international conference which will seek to reestablish the family and the home as the sole basis of national welfare. A simultaneous appeal will be made to churches in the United States and Britain for the pursuance of this ideal. Eminent public men, doctors and religious leaders are joining in a great movement for the destruction of conditions which they say are eating away the moral fibre of England.

Edward Shortt, Home Secretary H. A. L. Fisher, Minister of Education Lord Robert Cecil, member of Parliament, the Archbishop of Wales, Sir R. Baden Powell, founder of the Boy Scouts, Sir James Crichton Browne, the famous medical authority Lady Rhonda, the well known social reformer, and Rev. F. B. Meyer, the Chief Rabbi, are among the leaders.

The old moral landmarks are being submerged, says Sir James Marchmont, General Secretary of the Congress. "The most obvious symptom of the decay of moral responsibility is seen in the wide spread irregularity of sex-relations. The whole idea of restraint and temperance is rejected. A still graver danger is that the responsibilities of parenthood are being evaded. Social morality has scarcely entered into the minds of the multitude. The high standard of woman's influence in the home, the nurture of child life, and the tone of society are being lowered. In the novel and drama 'sex relations' are being discussed with an abandon ment of reserve which is morally pernicious."

Drying Food Is Triple Saving

It saves food, saves space, and saves containers. Nothing is lost in the drying process, the flavor is revived by the simple addition of water when you are ready to use the food.

Drying offers a simple, convenient and economical method for preserving many food materials and permits the carrying over of the surplus into periods in which fresh fruits and vegetables are expensive or unobtainable.

The Department of Agriculture has prepared a booklet on this subject in which are contained directions for the preparation, drying, and subsequent storage and care of the dried products.

This is a free Government publication and our Washington Information Bureau will secure a copy for any reader who fills out and mails the coupon below enclosing two cents in stamps for return postage. Write your name and address clearly.

THE MARRIAGE SHIP

Chapter 2 — A Hint of Mutiny

By Zoe Beckley

BEGIN HERE TODAY
".....and we'll live happily ever afterward." This refrain is ringing through the delighted brain of CONNIE DALE on her wedding day as she leaves the church on the arm of her young husband.

FRED DALE, the successful salesman of the Gypsy Motor Company, Fred has just been appointed to the New York sales office of the company.

Just as the young couple are driving off in a new Gypsy car, Uncle Dale, an old sea captain, remarks "Good luck to the marriage ship and may the weather be no stormier than to put zest into the voyage."

GO ON WITH THE STORY

Connie laughed happily. "Oh, we're not going to be at sea, Uncle Sid. It's to be love in a cottage."

"How 'bout a snappy little kitchenette apartment?" grinned Fred, starting the car. "We're to be in New York, you know."

"No sir!" Connie's firmness made Uncle Dale smile. "All my life I've dreamed of a white colonial cottage with solid green shutters with little trees cut into their tops, and white ruffled curtains, and pink garden roses and an old-fashioned ramble with hollyhocks and—"

"And an electric elevator to take you up to your tenth-floor cottage?" "I say no, Mr. Frederick Collier Dale, 'no living in a rookery for your wife. Why I'd sooner try to live in a bureau drawer.'"

"Avast there!" Uncle Dale's big voice cut in laughingly. "You aren't laughed yet, and already there's mutiny aboard!"

"I'll quell it!" And Fred kissed Connie fiercely, to the delight of the assembled world. "And now, giddyup, Gypsy, get a wig on, G'by, folks, we're off!"

"Alone at last!" sang Connie as

The RED HOUSE MYSTERY

by A. A. MILNE

"The announcement at breakfast went well. After the golf-party had gone off, we had the morning in which to complete our arrangements. What I was chiefly concerned about was to establish as completely as possible the identity of Robert. For this reason I suggested to Mark that, when dressed, he should go out by the secret passage to the bowling-green, and come back by the drive, taking care to enter into conversation with the lodge-keeper."

"In this way I would have two more witnesses of Robert's arrival—first the lodge-keeper, and secondly one of the gardeners whom I would have working on the front lawn. Mark, of course, was willing enough."

He could practice his Australian accent on the lodge-keeper. It was really amusing to see how readily he fell into every suggestion which I made. Never was a killing more carefully planned by its perpetrator. The clothes in the office bedroom. This was the safest way—for both of us. When he was ready he called me in, and I inspected him. It was extraordinary how well he looked the part. I suppose that the signs of his dissipation had already marked themselves on his face, but had been concealed hitherto by his mustache and beard; for now that he was clean-shaven, they lay open to the world from which we had so carefully hidden them, and he was indeed the beast which he was pretending to be.

"Wonderful," I said to myself. "Nobody could possibly guess."

"I peered into the hall. It was empty. We hurried across to the library he got into the passage and made off. I went back to the bedroom, collected all his discarded clothes, did them up in a bundle and returned with them to the passage. Then I sat down in the hall and waited."

"You heard the evidence of Stevens the maid. As soon as she was on her way to the Temple in search of Mark, I stepped into the office. My hand was in my side-pocket, and in my hand was the revolver."

"He began at once in his character of Robert—some rigmurle about working his passage from Australia; a little private performance for my edification. Then in his natural voice, glowing over his well-planned rattle, he said: 'Miss Norris, be honest, it's my turn now. You wait! It was this which Elsie heard. She had no business to be there and she might have ruined everything, but as it turned out it was the luckiest thing which could have happened. For it was the one piece of evidence which I wanted; evidence, other than my own, that Mark and Robert were in the room together.'"

"I said nothing. I was not going to take the risk of being liable to speak in that room. I just smiled at the poor little fool, and took out my revolver, and shot him. Then I went back into the library and waited—just as I said in my evidence."

"Can you imagine, Mr. Gillingham, the shock which your sudden appearance gave me? Can you imagine the feelings of a 'murderer' who has (as he thinks) planned for every possibility, and is then confronted suddenly with an utterly new problem? What difference would your coming make to me? I didn't know, perhaps none; perhaps all. And I had forgotten to open the window!"

"I don't know whether you will think my plan for killing Mark a clever one. Perhaps not. But if I do deserve any praise in the matter, I think I deserve it for the way I pulled myself together in the face of the unexpected catastrophe of your arrival. Yes, I got a window open, Mr. Gillingham, under your very nose; the right window, too, you were coming near to say. And the keys—yes, that was clever of you, but I think I was cleverer."

"I deceived you over the keys, Mr. Gillingham, as I learnt when I took the liberty of listening to a conversation on the bowling-green between you and your friend Beverley. Where was I? Ah, you must have a look for that secret passage, Mr. Gillingham. 'But what am I saying? Did I deceive you at all? You have found out the secret—that Robert was Mark—and that is all that matters. How have you found out? I shall never know. Where did I go wrong? Perhaps you have been deceiving me all the time. Perhaps you knew about the keys, about the window, even about the secret passage. You are a clever man, Mr. Gillingham."

"I had Mark's clothes on my hands. I might have left them in the passage, but the secret of the passage was now out. Miss Norris knew it. That was the weak point of my plan, perhaps, that Miss Norris had to know it. So I hid them in the pond, the inspector having obligingly dragged it for me first. A couple of keys joined them, but I kept the revolver. Fortunately, wasn't it, Mr. Gillingham?"

"Goodby, Mr. Gillingham. I'm sorry that your stay with us was not of a pleasanter nature, but you understand the difficulties in which I was placed. Don't let me see too badly of me. He is a good fellow; look after him. He will be surprised. The young are always surprised. And thank you for letting me end my own way. I expect you will sympathize a little, you know. We might have been friends in another world—you and I, and I, and she. Tell her what you like. Everything or nothing. You will know what is best. Goodby, Mr. Gillingham."

MATTHEW CAYLEY. "I am lonesome tonight without Mark. That's funny, isn't it?"

CHAPTER XXXI. "Good Lord!" said Bill, as he put down the letter. "What did you write to him? Was that last night? After I'd gone into Stanton?"

"Yes." "What did you say? That you'd discovered that Mark was Robert?" "Yes. At least I said that this morning. I should probably telegraph to Mr. Cartwright of Wimpole Street, and ask him to identify the body." Bill nodded thoughtfully and went back again to the letter. "I see. And you told Cayley that you were telegraphing Mark's dentist?" "Yes. And then of course it was all up for him. Once we knew that Robert was Mark we knew everything."

"How did you know?" "Antony got up from the breakfast table and began to fill his pipe. 'Well, let's see if I can go through my own mind again, and tell you how I guessed it. First of all, the clothes.'"

"To Cayley the clothes seemed an enormously important clue. I felt certain, that, in that case, the absence of the collar was unintentional. In collecting the clothes he had overlooked the collar. Why?" "It was the one in the linen-basket."

"Yes. It seemed probable. Why had Cayley put it there? The obvious answer was that he hadn't. Mark had put it there."

"Go on," said Bill eagerly. "Well, why had Mark changed down there instead of in his bedroom? The only answer was that the fact of his changing had to be kept secret. What did he change? The only possible time was at his lunch (when he would be seen by the servants) and the moment of Robert's arrival. And when did Cayley collect the clothes in a bundle? Again, the only answer was before Robert's arrival. So another x was wanted—to fit those three conditions."

"And the answer was that a murder could be intended without any more preparation than the changing into a different suit in which to escape. The thing was too childish. Also, if Robert was to be murdered, why go out of the way to announce his existence to you all? I began to feel now that Robert was a plot of Cayley's against Mark—either to get him to kill his brother, or to get his brother to kill him—and that for some inexplicable reason Mark seemed to be lending himself to the plot. He was silent for a little, and then said, almost to himself, 'I had seen the empty brandy bottles in that cupboard.'"

"I only saw them," he said afterward, you remember. They came back to me afterward; I knew how Cayley would feel about it. 'Poor devil!'"

"Go on," said Bill. "Well, then, we had the inquest and of course I noticed the curious fact that Robert had asked his way at the second lodge and not at the first. So I talked to Amos and Parsons. That made it more curious. Amos told me that Robert had gone out of his way to speak to him."

"Parsons told me that his wife was out in their little garden at the first lodge all the afternoon and was certain that Robert had never come past it. He also told me that Cayley had put him on to a job on the front lawn that afternoon. So I had another guess. Robert had used the secret passage—the passage that comes out into the park between the first and second lodges. Robert, then, had been in the house; it was a put-up job between Robert and Cayley. But how could Robert be there without Mark? Obviously, Mark knew too. What did it all mean?"

"When was this?" interrupted Bill. "Just after the inquest—after you'd seen Amos and Parsons, of course?" "Yes. I got up and left them, and came to look for you. I'd got back to the clothes then. Why did Mark change his clothes so secretly? Disguise? But then what about his face? That was much more important than clothes. His face, his beard—he'd have to shave off his beard—and then—oh, I don't know you looking at that poster. Mark acting. Mark made-up. Mark disguised. Oh, priceless idiot! Mark was Robert. . . . Matches, please."

"Yes," said Bill thoughtfully. "Yes . . . but wait a moment. What about the 'Plough and Horses'?" "Antony looked comically at him. 'You'll never forgive me, Bill,' he said."

"What do you mean?" "Antony sighed. 'I was a fake, Watson. I wanted you out of the way. I wanted to be alone. So—' he smiled and added, 'Well, I knew you wanted a drink.'"

THE END.

$20,000 BOND FOR ALLEGED SWINDLER

Detroit — J. P. Campbell, held on a charge of defrauding Gilbert S. Lance, Kenosha, Wis., of $10,000 on an alleged fake horse race bet, was released on $20,000 bond. Campbell pleaded not guilty and his examination was set for next week.

Following his release Campbell and Lance left the courtroom together, both refusing to discuss the case. Police are seeking a man introduced to Lance as "Mr. Burke" who was declared to represent a concern selling information on horse races.

STOCK ON HILL AGAINST MENASHA ON MONDAY

Pocan Complains Of Sore Arm; 2 New Men
In Sylvester's Team

Harvey Stock Eager for Chance in State League—
Dakota League Outfielder
Signed for Two Games.

SUNDAY'S GAMES
Appleton at Manitowoc.
Green Bay at Menasha.

LABOR DAY GAMES
Menasha at Appleton.
Manitowoc at Green Bay.

Clarence Pocan, the Kimberly star who was given a chance in the faster company of the Wisconsin State league, decided late Friday evening that he wasn't in condition to pitch for Appleton against the Menasha team here next Monday afternoon. He complained of a sore arm. Manager Sylvester immediately got busy and lined up Harvey Stock, of Lake Shore league fame, to do the heavy work. Stock has been hurling on the Pacific coast all season and is in excellent condition. He won more pennants in the Lake Shore league than any other pitcher. Stock also has quite a reputation as a hitter.

"Smoky" Schmidt will work on the hill at Manitowoc Sunday afternoon. "Smoky" has several good ball games left in his system. It wouldn't be at all surprising if he sets the Shipbuilders on their ears. Stock will be on hand ready to give a lift if the Herzog crew gets Schmidt.

Manager Sylvester also has announced the acquisition of Stock, an outfielder and pitcher from the Dakota league. Stock hit the ball at a .350 clip in the western wheel and made quite a record as a moundsman. He also will be ready to take a hand on the hill if it is necessary.

Menasha is coming here pretty well loaded. Joe Rook will do the pitching and it is probable there will be a few other new men. The Pails will send Jimmy Dodge against Green Bay Sunday afternoon.

Sylvester is trying out all the promising material he can get his hands on so that he will have a line on likely looking men for next season.

U. S. NEEDS ONE WIN
TO CINCH DAVIS CUP

By Associated Press
Forest Mills, N. Y.—Needling but one more victory to clinch possession of the Davis cup and with it another lawn tennis supremacy for another year, the United States pinned its faith Saturday in William T. Tilden and Vincent Richards, national champions in the doubles match with Gerald L. Patterson and Pat O'Hara Wood, of the challenging Australians. Patterson lost to Tilden and J. O. Anderson to William M. Johnston Friday in straight sets and the Australians were determined to make a "last ditch" stand against the defenders. Victory for the Australians Thursday would make it necessary for America to capture at least one of the remaining single matches scheduled Monday in which Anderson and Tilden and Patterson and Johnston are paired.

Browns Now Within Two Games of Yankees for American League Lead

Detroit — The St. Louis Browns moved to within two games of New York American leaders, by defeating Detroit, 4 to 1, on Friday. The visitors hit Ehmske for extra base blows in the fourth and eighth inning. At other stages he kept the hits well scattered.

Batteries: Shocker and Severid; Ehmske and Basser.

SOX CLIMB NOTCH

Cleveland, — Chicago ousted Cleveland from fourth place on Friday, when it won 2 to 0, in five innings, the time being stopped by rain. Robertson drove in both runs for Chicago and also drove in two more with a double in the sixth, the score, however, reverting back to the fifth inning. Chicago players did not have an assist.

Batteries: Robertson and Schalk; Uhle an O'Neill.

PLAY II INNINGS

Philadelphia—A wild throw to third base by Johnny Mitchell in the eleventh inning gave Philadelphia a 4 to 3 victory over Boston in the final game of the series on Friday. A home run with two out in the ninth by Gallows tied the score. Rommell turned in his twenty-first victory of the season.

Batteries: Karr, Quinn and Ruel; Rommell and Perkins.

WHEN TO GO FOR MUSKY

The best time for musky fishing is generally early and late in the season, with a trifle of a slow-up in the hot weather, although he may surprise you at any time and be on the feed when you least expect it. However, during the "dog-days" of August his teeth and gums are in poor shape and he needs a dentist more than a feed, at least he is not very much interested in what you show him in the style of baits, spoons or lures.

Often in the hot weather of late July and August you will find the musky lying close to the surface taking a sun bath, stretched out to his full length, a few inches under water, merely moving a fin or so. You can toss everything in the tackle box toward him and he never bats an eye and at a time like this it's an easy bet that you will get more fish if you make it a little still fishing for the walleye or hunt up a spring hole for bass.

But a trip for a little evening fishing, after the sun has passed over the horizon, when he is more than likely to be on the feed, may bring you a fair-sized member of the tribe.

About the best day for musky fishing is when there is a little ruffle to the surface, not too rough, but enough movement to liven up the water and keep the musky on the move for food, and an overcast or cloudy day is likely to be more productive of a strike than when the sun glares down on a glassy surface. On a day of this kind you can fish right through with some chance of getting strikes from fair-sized members of the musky family, but when the day is bright and hot, stack your bets on the early morning and evening fishing, remembering that it is a thrilling bit of fishing to fight a battle with a musky after dark.

HAITI HOLDS FIRST
FLYING TOURNAMENT

Port Au-Prince, Haiti—For the first time in its 118 years as a republic, Haiti saw a modern aviation meet this week on the flying field of the Fourth air squadron, of the Marine corps aviation force.

President Louis F. Borno, the members of his cabinet and the heads of the Court of Cassation and of the Council of State were the honor guests of the American high commissioner, Brigadier General John H. Russell. Madame Borno, wife of the president, headed a large delegation of Haitian society and one feature of the unqualified success of the meet was the evidence of the growing rapprochement between Haitian and American official and social circles. It is estimated that a total of 2,000 persons witnessed the stirring program that was carried out without mishap or delay.

Flights in formation, a daring mock fight between two swift planes, the transportation to the field of a stimulated casualty and the immediate transfer to a waiting ambulance, a parachute drop, acrobatic stunts, target practice with machine guns and dummy bombs, and the antics of a squad of clowns from the enlisted personnel of the squadron excited the liveliest interest and admiration of President Borno and his compatriots.

INTERLAKES EVEN;
HORTONVILLE IS BEATEN 5 TO 16

Papermakers Trounce Hosts At County Fair Exhibition
Game

Bent on avenging the 18 to 4 defeat suffered Thursday afternoon the Interlakes baseball team, evened scores Friday afternoon by defeating the Hortonville aggregation at the Hortonville fair grounds by a score of 16 to 5.

The game was almost a repetition of Thursday's slugging affair only this time it was Hortonville shedding tears and there wasn't quite so much slugging.

DIFFERENT TUNE

Interlakes claimed Thursday that too much sand on the diamond brought defeat, Friday Hortonville alibied an overworked pitcher. Remmell, who tossed the Thursday's game was forced to take his pishion on the mound after it was discovered that Leach, the scheduled hurler, could not get away from his duties at the post office. Remmell complained of a tired arm as he walked to the box. Interlakes discovered this very soon and began to pepper the ball out in such a hurry that Remmell decided to give up for a better man. Manager Collar summoned Third Baseman Dabreiner, but that was an error. The latter walked five men in no time. Remmell then was again sent to the mound and when he had finished the fourth inning there were 13 runs scored.

RODGERS HOLDS 'EM

The fifth inning opened with Rodgers on the mound. Here's where Interlakes ran up a snag. Rodgers through hit a number of times permitted but one run in the next five innings. Hoier did the catching for the hosts.

Niles lived up to the expectations of Manager Kessler of the Papermakers. The five runs came in spurts and the felding for the visitors more than made up Thursday's showing.

SCALLON WINNER
IN TENNIS MATCH

Eliminates Strong Opponent
From Finals of Men's City Tournament

In one of the fastest games in the history of the "X" courts, Paul Scallion Friday afternoon eliminated Heber H. Pelkey from the semi-finals of the men's city tennis tournament.

Scallion won two straight sets, the first ending 6-2 and the second 7-5. Scallion overcame a lead of 3 in the second match, when the score stood 4-1 in favor of Pelkey.

The game drew a considerable crowd. Scallion kept Pelkey close to the net. Pelkey was not up to his standard. He failed in the back hand drives and hit the net often.

The result of the game leaves S. C. Peabody, Jack Ingold and Scallion in the finals. Peabody will play Ingold sometime next week and the winner of this match will play Scallion for the city championship.

TRAILING THE TEAMS

Four twirlers in each of the two preceding games having failed to check Brooklyn's onslaught, McGraw rushed five to the firing line in an effort to check the Giants' slump but the Dodgers, one run behind in the tenth, hammered across the two runs off Scott and made it three in a row from the champions, 8 to 7.

The Giants had their lead over Chicago cut to five games as the Cubs took advantage of Cincinnati's errors and banged a 7 to 4 victory. The other National league contenders, St. Louis and Pittsburgh, divided a doubleheader in which heavy hitting predominated. Rob Russell of the Pirates led the sluggers with seven hits including three home runs which brought his season's total to 12.

While the Yanks were idle, the St. Louis Browns gained a half game on the American league leaders and cut the margin separating them from the top two games by defeating Cobb's skidding Tigers, 4 to 1.

The White Sox took fourth place from Cleveland by defeating the Indians 2 to 0 in a five inning affair while Rommel, Mack's twirling ace, chalked up his twenty-first victory of the season by defeating Boston, 4 to 3 in 11 innings.

The Boston Braves took their second straight doubleheader from Philadelphia and climbed to within a game of seventh place.

Milwaukee — Sir Roach broke the track record of 2:01 1/4 when he made the mile in 2:00 1/4 in the free for all pace beating Hal Mahone in the feature event at the Wisconsin state fair races.

Aurora, Ill.—Bob Martin, A. E. F. heavyweight champion, scored a technical knockout over Andy Schmader in the second round of their scheduled ten round bout, the referee stopping the match to save Schmader from further punishment.

One of the most select fields in the history of American golf will tee off in the qualifying round of the national amateur championship at Brooklyn, Mass.

A complete list of the entries discloses that every section of the country will be represented, in addition to the British Isles, through a team of eight players whom England sent to compete for the Walker cup. The number of entries at the closing totaled 145. Between 20 and 30 players were denied entrance on the basis of their performances this year.

Thirty-two Players Take Part In Ten Inning Struggle
at Brooklyn

Brooklyn—Thirty-two players including eight pitchers, took part in a ten inning game on Friday in which Brooklyn made it three straight from New York, 8 to 7. The Dodgers knocked McQuillan out of the box in the sixth and McGraw sent four others to the mound in a vain effort to stem the tide. After tying the score in the eighth with four runs and knocking Vance out of the box, the Giants went ahead in the first extra inning. Brooklyn rallied, however, and won on a pass, a sacrifice, a hit batsman, Pinch Hitter Tom Griffith's double and Cadore's single.

Batteries: Scott, V. Barnes, Ryan, Jonnard, McQuillan and Snyder and Smith; Cadore, Mamaux, Vance and De Berry.

BRAVES TAKE DOUBLE HEADER

Boston—Boston took its second straight double header from Philadelphia Friday. Watson shut out the visitors in the opener, 2 to 0 and Harry Huhman, the young left hander obtained from the Giants in the McQuillan deal won the second game, 10 to 1.

Batteries: G. Smith, Singleton, Ring and Hendline; Huhman, Watson and Gowdy and O'Neill.

CHICAGO WINS

Chicago—Chicago bunched hits behind errors by Fonseca and Pinelli and defeated Cincinnati, 7 to 4 in the first game of the series. Friday's victory coupled with New York's defeat by Brooklyn, put the locals five games behind the league leaders.

Batteries: Keck, Schnell, Couch, Luque and Hargrave; Cheeves and O'Farrell.

CARDS, BUGS SPLIT

St. Louis—St. Louis and Pittsburgh divided their double header here on Friday the visitors taking the first game, 14 to 4, while the home team won the second, 11 to 6. Heavy hitting featured both contests. Russell leading the attack by getting three home runs two of which were made in the first game, bringing his season's total to twelve circuit drives. Sell, a youngster from the Syracuse International league team was batted out of the box in the sixth.

Batteries: Yellowhorse, Carlson, Cooper, Morrison and Gooch and Schmidt; Pfeffer, Sell, Bartoot, Perlica, Doak and Clemons and Almsmith.

Des Moines—Frank Lundin of New London, Ia., won the horse shoe pitching championship of the United States.

VALLEY LEAGUE
MAGNATES WILL MEET HERE SOON

Change Name To Wisconsin
Valley Baseball League—
Plan Banquet

The Fox River Valley league is no more—that is its name.

At a meeting in Sheboygan directors changed the name to the Wisconsin Valley Baseball League. It was concluded that since Sheboygan is not in the Fox River valley the old name would no longer be descriptive of the league.

At the same time it is understood that the club is prepared to grant new franchises and is ready to welcome any newcomers in accordance with its plans for next year.

MEET IN APPLETON

The Valley magnates will meet again in Appleton September 10, to consider any applications that may be filed with the secretary. The meeting will also be the occasion for the annual banquet and closing of the season. Umpires, players, officials and sport writers will be the guests. Arrangements for the feed are in charge of Attorney W. F. Grogan.

Officials of the Valley league assert that Menasha will enter a team in their circuit next year. They say that an application is ready and that it will be accepted.

The Sheboygan conclave was presided over by President John C. Kluwin, of Oshkosh.

TO DECIDE FUTURE

A committee consisting of E. W. Arnold and F. Schneider of Oshkosh; Frank Heath and Al P. Mayer of Fond du Lac; Paul Smith and John Coppes of Kaukauna; O. A. Kroos and William Liehl, Sheboygan, was appointed to recommend rules for the future government of the league.

The league adopted the following recommendations:

Players classed as ineligible under the rules of organized baseball, to be barred; that no clubs harbor or play any such players; that betting on games to prohibited in all ball parks; and that no officer, director manager, or player or any person directly or indirectly interested in any club or in the league bet on the results of any game; that the schedule of games for the season of 1923 include thirty to fifty-two games, thus making possible a number of Saturday games, all depending upon the number of clubs in the league next season.

That no club be granted a franchise unless the club abides by the rules of the league and furnish evidence and guarantee to the directors that all rules will be strictly adhered to. Umpire William Kuhn was elected as chief of staff of umpires for the season 1923.

HOW TO PLAY BASEBALL
Should Infielder Block Runner?

BY BILLY EVANS
Of late years there has been a tendency on the part of some infielders to resort to blocking to get results.

Catchers have taken up the custom even more than the infielders. Protected by heavy shin guards and a protector, the catcher has a decided advantage over the runner. As a matter of fact, the runner coming into the plate is seriously handicapped by the blocking habits of the catcher. If the runner comes in high speed in an effort to intimidate the catcher, he is regarded as a rowdy player.

A great many infielders now wear a heavy felt protection for their shins. This protects them against spikes and makes it possible to take many chances.

When an infielder touches a runner, it is best for him to be a few inches from the bag, with the legs far apart so that he can straddle the runner as he comes in and thereby avoid the spikes, if he so desires. The idea is to touch the runner as lightly as possible, and get out of the way.

In blocking a runner, a fielder is always taking the chance of serious injury. Also there is always the possibility that the force of the collision will knock the ball out of his hands and spoil the play.

Blocking the runner is a dangerous practice, all the more so if the infielder is slight physically.

The only time it is worth while blocking a runner is when getting the decision may save the game. Such a goal occasionally justifies the chance taken.

Interlakes' Booster
Game With Kimberly
Features County Card

Kaukauna Valley League Player Signed By League Leaders For Hurling Services Against Papermakers.

SUNDAY'S GAMES
Dale at Black Creek.
Hortonville at Freedom.
Kimberly at Interlakes.

All eyes Sunday will be glued on the game between Kimberly and Interlakes at the Interlakes baseball park and here is the reason:

Kimberly hasn't lost a single game of the entire Outagamie County league schedule and Manager Behrendt says he doesn't intend to.

The Sunday game is scheduled as the "booster game" for Interlakes. There will be a good crowd and according to all customs a team playing on its own diamond on "booster day" is supposed to win. Manager Kessler says he will break ice for Kimberly.

CHANGES IN LINEUP

Kimberly will invade the paper section with many changes in its lineup, some forced by the absence of Pocan and a few other players now with the Wisconsin State league.

Hass, who has been serving as an extra pitcher for the Kaukauna Valley league team, will do the main twirling for the county league leaders. Fetter will be on the receiving end. Sternagel and O'Hanlon will compose the battery for the Interlakes aggregation.

HORTONVILLE VS. FREEDOM

Experts look with some misgivings as to the outcome of Hortonville Sunday when it meets Freedom at the Freedom diamond. Remmell will pitch, but the twirlers, according to the last reports is somewhat in an overworked condition, having been forced to toss Thursday and Friday at the county fair exhibition games with Interlakes.

Remmell won the Thursday game and did some brilliant work but Friday a tired arm lost for his mates. However, the pitcher asserts that his recuperating powers are in working order and that the rest Saturday will be sufficient. Freedom will have Nelson and Schommer for its battery. It has been a month since the two teams met and there is considerable anxiety on the part of Freedom in avenging the August 4 score.

DALE VS. BLACK CREEK

Dale did some tall switching in its lineup for the game with Black Creek at Black Creek. First Baseman William F. Nemon has been assigned the hurling duties. Dale wants to win back third place. Manager F. Blick intends to spoil the plans of his guests. Bramon and Perry will perform for Black Creek pitcher and catcher, respectively. Hunsiger will be on the receiving end for Dale and his shoes in the rightfield will be filled by H. Geibel, a new name in the Dale lineup.

holder. One of the members recently in the country in the eastern part of Argentina, which is voted partly to sugar plantations, young brothers of English descent named Beale, one of whom was years old and the other 17. The Beale had made a moving picture camera out of the crude material he could pick up locally and then made for himself a projector. He said that the pictures produced were just as good as those shown in a cinema house in Argentina.

The younger Beale had become interested in locomotives. He saw an English engineering magazine picture of two Mogul locomotives, a type not used in Argentina. He was 15 years old he started out to make the necessary machinery. He built a lathe and a small furnace by which he cast and machined the cylinders and the other parts. Now he has two working models of Mogul locomotives, built entirely from pictures in the magazines, each 2 feet long, and he has made them run under their own power.

The elder Beale boy is to be awarded one of the new Harvard scholarships, and plans to enter Harvard this autumn. He will probably register in the Engineering school.

The scholarship contributed to the Harvard Club of Mexico by the Associated Harvard Clubs is described by the secretary of that body as "only small token of our appreciation and desire to reciprocate" for the service done by the National University of Mexico in arranging for free summer courses for American students and teachers.

COMPLETE FOUR ROOM HOME

Copyright, 1922, Architects Small House Service Bureau.

In this delightful Colonial bungalow you have an example of the type that a small inexpensive home can be as attractive and comfortable as a larger, more expensive dwelling. You may not have realized it, but it is really much more difficult to plan a small home than a large one. The limits of space and purse must be constantly kept in mind.

To provide all necessary home conveniences and comfort, to get necessary rooms in a small area without crowding, to give the small home an air of spaciousness and livability requires the closest kind of study and planning.

This home is flexible in its plan. It can be built in mild climates without a basement. In other sections, where a basement is desired, it can be easily provided.

Louvers in the gables give the roof ventilation so that the rooms beneath can be kept cooler in hot weather. The exterior is finished in wide siding on frame construction. All windows have double hung sash and solid shutters.

The home can be built on a 47 foot lot. Without the porch at the side the house can be placed on a 40 foot lot. The outside dimensions are 27.10 wide by 29.4 deep. Cubic contents, 13,373 feet.

One of the attractive features of this plan is the open porch of generous dimensions, placed at the side of the house where it has privacy. This has particular advantage in that it offers an outdoor dining room, and can be glazed if desired, thus providing an all-year round porch or additional room.

The living room is generously partitioned and provides a fireplace as a feature, topped by a mantel of pleasing Colonial design. At the right of the fireplace is a built-in bookcase.

In a home as small as this the housewife will undoubtedly do most of her own work. Her attention is, therefore, called to the excellent kitchen arranged to minimize steps and lighten housekeeping. The refrigerator is provided with an outside icing door. The back porch has been supplied with laundry tubs at one end and a good sized storage space at the other. If a basement is provided for this home, the back porch will not be used for laundry purposes.

Another feature of the home consists of a suite of two bedrooms and a bathroom located so they open off a private hall. The bedrooms are comfortable in size. Each has a liberal clothes closet and cross ventilation. There is a large built-in linen closet in the hall.

In localities where restrictions demand fire resisting materials, the exterior can be changed to meet such conditions.
